STATES ISOLATION ONLY ALTERNATIVE

American Influence Over Big Conference Noted During Address

PARIS, Aug. 21.—"I had to choose between re-establishing the Entente or maintaining isolated action. I've chosen—now it is parliament's turn to choose."

Premier Herriott of France hurried this challenge to the Chamber of Deputies when he appeared before it and outlined the accords reached in the conference on application of the Dawes report just completed in London.

Herriott's entrance into the chamber for presentation of his case was dramatic. His appearance was greeted with cheers and applause which rose to an ovation from the socialists and radicals, while the center and right nooted and jeered.

Herriott spoke for an hour and a half. He said that none of the Allies will deny that France solved the greatest difficulty confronting the London conference and the point on which the conference might break up by proposing that the solution of problems growing out of application of the Dawes report should be accomplished by arbitration.

When he concluded Herriott was given a tremendous ovation.

Herriott noted the American influence over the conference. "It will be observed," he said, "that we have given a large part to the Americans in the organization and control of Germany. We have given a large part to the Americans in the control provided by this plan and in the execution of a program which was due largely to her initiative."

"30" BULLETINS

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 21.—Surprised as he slept Salvador Elgatti, 19, asserted partner of Edward Lopez, late yesterday shot and killed Patrolman Edward Wilhoit and injured three bystanders, was captured by detectives today after a desperate struggle. The officers smashed the door of Elgatti's room in East 36th Place and awoke him as they entered. The Mexican darted a hand under his pillow and grabbed a revolver. With a leap, the detectives were upon him, and wrested the gun from his grasp.

NORTH RANDALL RACE TRACK, Ohio, Aug. 21.—Colonel Bosworth, with Lon McDonald driving, set a new world's record for three-year-old trotters here this afternoon when he went the mile in 2:02 4-5 to take the first heat of the $9,705 steeple championship trotting stake. The former record was 2:03 1-4, set in 1917 at Lake Wood Park, Atlanta, by Miss Bertha Dillon, driven by Joe Serrell, Philadelphia.

$40,000 COMMUNITY CHEST DRIVE PLANNED BY C. OF C.

A drive for a community chest fund of $40,000 will be undertaken this fall by the Chamber of Commerce here, it became known today, following a meeting of the board of directors of the chamber late yesterday.

Organizations suggested for participation in the fund were the Salvation Army, Y. M. C. A., Y. W. C. A., Boy Scouts, Anti-Tubercular society, Day Nursery and Veterans' Welfare fund.

The board's approval of the community chest plan was given through adoption of a report and recommendations made by the chamber's committee on community chest, composed of Roland E. Dye, chairman; E. T. McFadden, Albert F. Hill, Fred C. Blauer, and Hugh J. Lowe. McFadden presented the report.

Victims of S. F. Fire In 1906 Get Insurance

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 21.—San Francisco people who suffered in the fire of 1906 and then found that German and Austrian insurance companies holding their policies would not pay, will get their money after all.

Claims amounting to $5,000,000 with interest at five per cent for 18 years have been ordered paid to 900 policy holders by Superior Judge Frank T. Deasy, U. S. mixed claims commissioner for California.

The money will be realized from $25,000,000 worth of assets the United States government seized when this country entered the World war, and which was denied to the German and Austrian companies following the peace agreement because they had not settled outstanding claims.

7 ARE WILLED ESTATE WORTH $125,000

An estate valued at $125,000 was left by the late Marie Selinger, of Fullerton, who died August 13, according to a petition to probate her will, on file today in the superior court here.

The son and six daughters of Mrs. Selinger were named as heirs to the estate, which consisted of a forty-acre orange grove, valued at $80,000, $35,100 in cash, and $7560 in stocks and securities.

John Selinger, the son, was bequeathed ten acres of the ranch, his portion to include the house and buildings. The remaining thirty acres was to be divided equally between the six daughters, who are Bertha Schulte and Lena Atherton, of Fullerton, Hilda Chandler and Emma Bates, of Anaheim, Ida Spaulding, of Hollywood, and Mary Kellenberger, of Los Angeles.

The cash and other personal property, according to the will, was to be divided equally between the seven heirs.

Attorney Leonard Evans, of Anaheim, represents John Selinger as petitioner in the probate matter.

FLORENCE BARTON CASE IS REVIVED

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Aug. 21.—Two men accused of slaying Florence Barton, Kansas City deputy, on a lonely highway near here four years ago are under arrest at Cardin, Okla., police were advised today.

Miss Barton, daughter of a Kansas City shoe manufacturer and leader of the young social set, was riding with her fiancé, Howard Winter, when three men mounted the running board of their car and began firing.

Miss Barton was killed and Winter wounded. The murder created a furore throughout the southwest. Denzel Chester, an underworld character, was arrested in Great Falls, Mont., in connection with the crime, but escaped. He was again arrested at Broken Bow, Nebraska, and again escaped.

Police said two men, Bob Hanna and George Rowden were in custody at Cardin.

MOB ATTACKS 'BADGE' BANDIT

DUNLAP BEAT ABOUT HEAD BY CROWD

Deputies Use Guns Before Being Able to Get Prisoner to Safety

(By United Press Leased Wire) LOS ANGELES, Aug. 21.—Harry J. Dunlap, "badge bandit," was mobbed at the county courthouse today, shortly after the noon recess of his trial.

Deputy sheriffs finally dragged Dunlap to safety after he had been set upon and beaten by a dozen men.

James Wilson, the witness who at the morning hearing called Dunlap a "rattlesnake," started the demonstration against the notorious prisoner.

"Take that for calling me a rattlesnake," Wilson shouted, striking Dunlap just after he left the courtroom, in custody of a squad of deputies.

Almost immediately a mob gathered around the group, and men commenced striking the "badge bandit" and attempted to kick him. Wilson landed another blow in Dunlap's eye.

The manacled prisoner threw up his hands to protect his full set of gold teeth, but several blows reached their mark.

Deputy Sheriffs Bright and Dewar and Bailiff Jack Henry drew their pistols and beat back the enraged crowd.

A way was finally broken through to the elevator, and Dunlap was hurried through a secret tunnel to the jail.

Hundreds of persons rushed from the courthouse and surrounded the jail. There were rumors of storming the bastille. In the crowd were many witnesses in the trial who accused Dunlap of robbery and attacking their women companions.

Several persons narrowly escaped injury as the police patrol summoned by an excited jailer, clanged down the street to the jail.

Wilson, the witness who headed the mob, was arrested for contempt of court and will be sentenced next week.

"The dignity of our court must be upheld," Judge Crail declared, upbraiding Wilson for the attack. "Such an outbreak as this does not show a necessary respect for law and order. Harry Dunlap must get a fair trial and he will receive all the protection this court can give him."

Judge Crail ordered extra guards for the afternoon session and directed that the courthouse corridors be kept clear from now on until the trial is ended.

Bryan Injured In Auto Smash

MATTOON, Ill., Aug. 21.—William J. Bryan was bruised and cut about the head and face last night when the automobile in which he was traveling from Tuscola, Ill., to this city overturned.

In spite of his injuries, the Commoner proceeded with a lecture for which he was scheduled on his arrival here. The cause of the accident was withheld, it was said, because of Bryan's wish to avoid alarming his wife, who is ill at their home in Florida.

Prince of Wales Makes Ready for Trip to America

LONDON, Aug. 21.—From St. James palace to the down town Cunard line offices and aboard the liner Berengaria, there was movement and bustle today as preparations were completed for the departure of the Prince of Wales upon his visit to the United States and Canada.

American and English social lights were clamoring with insistence for reservations. An amazing number of society and near-society folks, together with good looking young women, have suddenly decided that the date of the Berengaria's sailing is exactly the time they must leave England.

Federal Agents Seek Jewels of Teresa Mors

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 21.—Whereabouts of eight or ten valuable pieces of jewelry, which customs officials believe may have been smuggled into this country by Mrs. Teresa Mors, dead affinity of Kid McCoy, was the object of an exhaustive search started by government authorities here today.

Albert A. Mors, former husband of the dead woman, was to be questioned concerning the valuables, customs agents admitted to the United Press. "We are centering our movements upon Mors now," one official said.

FOUR KILLED IN WRECK OF N. J. EXPRESS

Train Plows Into Motor Truck At Grade Crossing—Locomotive, Two Cars Leave Rails.

CRANFORD, N. J., Aug. 21.—Four persons were killed when the Philadelphia express of the Central Railroad of New Jersey plowed into a motor truck near here today.

The driver and a passenger of the motor truck and the fireman and one passenger on the train were killed, according to first reports of the accident.

The train was said to have been traveling 70 miles an hour.

The locomotive and first two cars of the train were derailed. The engine slid along the ground, then overturned. The rescue workers reached the train. His legs were broken and he was badly scalded. He was taken to a hospital. The fireman was dead.

More than 30 persons were removed from the wrecked cars and treated by physicians at the scene.

SEEK CLUES IN NEW BURGLARY WAVE HERE

Burglars used trucks to haul away huge quantities of loot from two stores near here, which were entered before daylight today, according to local deputy sheriffs who investigated the robberies. In the meantime the police also were probing four other burglaries in Santa Ana, while at Orange the officers were musing over the bravery of a man and woman who cooked a meal in a home which they had ransacked.

The authorities were unable to estimate the value of the combined losses, although it is believed the loot was worth more than a thousand dollars.

A. N. Olsen, who conducts a grocery and service station on a corner of Westminister, reported the loss of a case of toilet soap, two sacks of flour, a large quantity of sugar, several dozen cans of vegetables, fruit and fish, several boxes of candies, chewing gum, cookies and cigars, several cartons of cigarettes, a large quantity of fresh fruits and vegetables and a typewriter.

A window at the side of Olsen's store had been jimmied, and it was believed that the stolen goods were passed through the window onto a truck backed against the building.

From Placentia came the report that Elmer Haberdashery, owned by Elmer Hockett, had been entered by thieves who broke down the back door of the store. A large number of men's shirts and other merchandise were stolen. Tracks of a motor truck were found near the door.

The fifteenth robbery in the crime wave that has been terrorizing the inhabitants of Orange was committed last night when, according to the police, a woman and a man entered the home of Mrs. L. P. Bennett, 810 West La Veta street, and after searching the house for valuables, partook of a meal which they prepared in the kitchen.

Orange police stated that tracks outside the window indicated that one of the "hungry burglars" was

RETRENCHING DUE AS TAX RATE TOLD

Economy Trend Revealed As County Levy Dropped From $1.90 to $1.75

The trend toward economy was reflected in the new tax rates of Orange county, as tentatively announced today, beginning with a cut of fifteen cents in the county tax rate and spreading to various special districts where a general spirit of retrenchment was noted in the budgets prepared for the board of supervisors.

The county rate is $1.75 as compared to $1.90 for last year, the reduction being made on the rate inside of cities, which dropped from $1.50 to $1.35. A cut of fifty per cent in the county good roads tax was the chief reduction made.

Drainage, fighting and other special districts curtailed their expense budget for the coming year in a number of cases, thus accomplishing material decreases in their tax rates.

Several districts of the county generally maintained rates approximately the same as last year, according to the table of rates announced following yesterday's meeting of the supervisors, when the schedule was tentatively adopted. Official fixing of the rates, it was said, is not due, under the law, until September 1.

Increases Explained

Several exceptions to the general trend toward reduced rates were explained as occasioned by the effect of recently voted bond issues, or the voting of a direct tax in preference to a bond issue. In a few districts increased tax rates followed a drop in assessed valuation.

Huntington Beach high school district, for example, it was explained, chose to vote a direct tax instead of a bond issue and with the funds thus raised, together with accrued receipts from the district's oil properties, finance construction of a new high school building. Garden Grove district

LAST EFFORT TO CHEAT GALLOWS

Supreme Court to Be Asked To Save "Tuffy" Reid From Hangman's Rope

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 21.—Clarence "Tuffy" Reid probably will not hang tomorrow.

A writ of probable cause issued yesterday by Superior Judge Fleming of Los Angeles, who sentenced Reid to death, was served on Warden James A. Johnston of San Quentin penitentiary today and the warden was advised by State Attorney General U. S. Webb to postpone the execution until the supreme court can act in the matter.

A final effort to save the life of Clarence "Tuffy" Reid, condemned to hang at San Quentin penitentiary at 10:00 a. m. tomorrow will be made today when a writ of coram nobis will be served on the supreme court here by Wesley Marten, attorney for Reid.

Marten said that he would appear before the court this afternoon with the writ, which was issued by Superior Judge John J. Fleming in Los Angeles yesterday. Judge Fleming heard the Reid case and condemned the youth to death.

In substance the writ sets forth that if certain facts had been known to the court at the time, the sentence might have been different and kidnapping for ransom. Why? Your Honor knows well that if the state's case had not been ironclad, if there had been any way out of this mass of facts, Mr. Darrow would have taken his chance with a jury. But he knew he could not find twelve men in this country or any other country who would free them.

"Mr. Darrow asks your Honor for mercy. What mercy did they show little Bobby?"

"We feel sorry for the families of the slayers, for they are nearly respected. And we, too, must feel sorry for the Franks family, that poor woman, Mrs. Franks, who still believes that her little boy will return, who still cherishes the hope that she will have her little baby back into her arms again."

"And these two cold blooded murderers come here and ask for mercy!"

"The law was made alike for the rich and poor, Jew and Gentile."

Stepping up to the boys, Savage shook a clenched fist under their noses and shouted:

"Your Honor, if we don't hang these boys, it will be a long, long time before we hang anybody else in Cook county."

Californians Go Into Finals Of Tennis Tourney

LONGWOOD CRICKET CLUB, CHESTNUT HILLS, Aug. 21.—Robert and Howard Kinsey of California earned their way into the final round of the national doubles by defeating Vincent Richards and Francis T. Hunter of New York, the Olympic champions, in an evenly balanced five set match here today, the keynote of which was Hunter's total inability to put speed into his overhead returns of the victors' continued high lobs. The score was 6-4, 1-6, 4-6, 6-2, 6-3.

The Kinseys tomorrow meet the victors of the Johnston-Driggs vs. Paterson-Wood match, the contest of the second half of the semifinals.

Examine Jury to Hear Girl Case

Examination of a jury to try the case of James Wilson, of Anaheim, charged with a statutory offense against a 15-year-old Anaheim girl, was in progress this afternoon in department 3 of the superior court after being delayed by another trial.

The regular jury panel being summoned to another department of the court, the Wilson case waited until jurors excused from the other trial, together with a special venire of ten summoned by Judge F. C. Drumm, provided sufficient material for proceeding.

Attorney Morris A. Cain represents the defense, with Deputy District Attorney D. G. Wettlin appearing for the state.

Asleep Seven Months; Is Finally Cured

BERKELEY, Cal., Aug. 21.—Clifford Norman, law student at the University of California, probably will be taken to his home in Oakland today, victor in a seven months' battle against sleeping sickness.

Since the middle of last January, Norman had lain in a semi-conscious state in the University infirmary, while Dr. Robert T. Legge, University physician, and other doctors studied the strange malady that continues to baffle science.

Forty per cent of the time during the illness, the youth was sound asleep, drifting continually from semi-consciousness to complete coma, but never coming to his senses until yesterday. Liquid food has been given him regularly and instead of being weak from the long sleep, Norman is strong enough to start right in getting well, Dr. Legge said.

DEATH PENALTY IS DEMANDED BY STATE

CRIMINAL COURTROOM, CHICAGO, Aug. 21.—In a thrilling peroration, replete with dramatic moments, Assistant State's Attorney Joseph P. Savage today called on Chief Justice John R. Caverly to serve Nathan Leopold and Richard Loeb the same way they served Bobby Franks—with death.

"Mr. Darrow came before you and made a virtue out of a necessity," Savage shouted. "He pleaded guilty to murdering and kidnapping for ransom. Why? Your Honor knows well that if the state's case had not been ironclad, if there had been any way out of this mass of facts, Mr. Darrow would have taken his chance with a jury. But he knew he could not find twelve men in this country or any other country who would free them."

WOMAN VICTIM OF PURSE SNATCHERS

A black headed bag which contained $3 in silver, a house key and a powder puff, was snatched from the hands of Mrs. Earl Ross, who resides at the Dean apartments on West Fifth street, by one of three boys while she was preparing to leave the balcony of a local theater late yesterday. It was reported at police headquarters today. The boys, ranging in ages from 12 to 14 years, were said to have rushed out of the theater before they could be stopped.

Mrs. Ross told the police that the lads were "Americans, and all wore dirty blue overalls."

Preliminary hearing of Jack Smith, 35, of Hollywood, held here on a burglary charge, was today set for August 23 at 9 a. m. before Justice Jack Landell.

BOLT OF LIGHTNING BARELY MISSES PRESIDENT COOLIDGE

PLYMOUTH, Vt., Aug. 21.—A bolt of lightning struck within fifty yards of President Coolidge and his family during a terrific electrical storm which swept Plymouth last night.

Only the fact that the home of the president's father is not wired for either telephone or electric lights prevented a fire and possible injury to those in the house. The bolt struck a telephone pole in the rear of the house of J. J. Wilder, just up the road from the Coolidge house. A sheet of flame sped along the wires, passed the Coolidge house and then flashed in the temporary telephone office installed in the general store. The telephone repair man who put the circuit back into commission, declared the damage clearly showed that the bolt was a tremendous one. Had it struck the Coolidge house it might have destroyed it.

Italian Round World Birdman Accompanies Americans on Journey

CLEAR WEATHER IN ICELAND REPORTED

Flight Today Imperative As Supply of Fuel Said to Be Extremely Low

REYKJAVIK, Iceland, Aug. 21.—Lieutenants Lowell Smith and Eric Nelson, the American round-the-world flyers got away at 8:10 o'clock this morning and, with clear weather favoring them, disappeared into the northwest, headed for Frederiksdal, Greenland, 825 miles away.

The Americans were accompanied by Lieut. Locatelli, the Italian round-the-world flyer.

Smith and Nelson, with their mechanics, rose at 4:00 a. m. Sleepy-eyed villagers started to congregate at the beach shortly afterwards. At 7:15, Smith taxied out from the inner harbor. Nelson followed. The movie cameramen began creaking away and the crowd cheered.

Wind Strong

On account of the wind, both aviators purposely drifted into the shelter of the little island of Vi-dey, outside the harbor, where the Italian aviator, with four men in his plane, joined them.

It was just seven o'clock when Smith started his final get-away. Nelson moved forward a moment afterwards. They circled the harbor and Smith landed for a moment, then rose again and the three started away, flying low and disappearing from sight at 8:15.

There is a possibility the flyers may not make an extended stop at Frederiksdal, Smith declared before hopping off. Present plans call for an overnight halt but there is a chance the three aviators may wing on to Irtut, on the western coast of Greenland. This is dependent upon weather conditions at Frederiksdal.

Is Last Stop

Ivigtut is the last stop in Greenland for the flyers and is up the western coast 15 miles from Frederiksdal.

The air adventurers will make a one day stop at Ivigtut and then take to the air again, heading for Indian Harbor, Labrador, whence they will continue down the eastern coast of North America to Boston. They hope to arrive in Boston not later than Sept. 1.

Today's flight was almost imperative owing to the low fuel supply on the navy cruisers which are guarding the aviators.

Navy officials pointed out that there are no tankers close to the path of the flyers and that the ships probably would be forced to make long cruises in order to refuel. In case the delay was extended, the aviators were more than willing to get away, having become almost disgusted at their long stay at the Iceland base.

The hop off terminated a fortnight's delay here, caused first by unfavorable weather and later by a mishap which occurred early this week when the planes were damaged attempting to take the air with too heavy a load of fuel.

Truth Requested From The District Attorney

Editor Santa Ana Daily Register, Santa Ana, California.

Dear Sir:

Our attention has been called to District Attorney Nelson's statement in last evening's Register.

It is only of Santa Ana to ask that truth and fairness be shown them either in politics, business or any other question that may arise.

We feel certain that Chester M. Kline, candidate for State Senator, together with the other men referred to in Mr. Nelson's article, would consider it a pleasure and an honor to belong to a patriotic organization on whose membership roll may be found the best men in any community.

The District Attorney, whether intentional or not, insinuates in his article that the men named are not fit to hold public office on account of the fact of their so-called affiliation with the Klan.

Since Mr. Nelson has seen fit to insinuate that these men are unworthy to serve the people of this city and county, Santa Ana Klan No. 14 requests that he present the proof of his assertions that the above men are members of the Klan, and further prove why they are unworthy and unfit to offer themselves as candidates for public service. We request that he furnish such proof or retract his statement through the Register.

Truth is all the Klan asks and we are satisfied that the thinking people in this county will agree with us in this contention.

QUENTIN GATES SHUT ON LOVE CASE COUPLE

Glenn Brookins and Addie Campbell, who "loved not wisely but too well," were today entering San Quentin penitentiary.

The former Anaheim couple, recently convicted of a statutory offense, were starting to serve a sentence that may keep them within the prison walls for the next five years.

Brookins and the girl, who was Mrs. Addie Wiley at the time of her arrest last January, but who resumed her maiden name when her marriage was annulled about three weeks ago, started for San Quentin from this city late yesterday. Sheriff W. E. Bates, Mrs. Bates had charge of Miss Campbell. The party was due at San Quentin shortly before noon today.

Contemplating the penalty facing them for their alleged illicit love affair, which broke up two homes and eventually severed the marriage bonds that made their love a crime, the sentenced pair showed the effects of the few days that have elapsed since they heard their fate pronounced.

When Brookins, erstwhile printer and publisher, walked from the county jail yesterday his face was pale and worn as though from worry. The girl's tense expression, too, reflected pain and discouragement. Whether remorse had any place in the mingled emotions marked upon their countenances, those who watched them could not guess. Whatever their thoughts, they hid them well. Neither had comment to make as they started on the fateful trip to state's prison.

The couple were arrested late in January when officers raided a Newport Beach cottage and found them living together, it was alleged. Brookins had separated from his wife, leaving her and their two young children in Anaheim. Miss Campbell, then Mrs. Wiley, had separated from her husband, C. C. Wiley, soon after her acquaintance with Brookins began, late in 1923, according to subsequent testimony at their trials.

The fact that both were still legally married however, brought prosecution under a felony charge that carried the penalty of not exceeding five years in prison. Had only one of them been married, the charge against them would have been merely a misdemeanor, punishable by a sentence of not more than one year in the county jail, authorities stated. Had neither been married their acts would have constituted no offense under the California laws, it was said.

Brookins and the girl offered a sharp contrast in personalities, according to jail officials, who have watched them during their incarceration. Brookins, thirty-

One of Richardson's neighbors, Theodore Reuter, told the police that someone stole a bathrobe from an automobile in his driveway at 801 Grand avenue. Prowlers also were reported to have been seen in the yard of Mrs. M. Reuter's home at 909 Grand avenue. Footprints found in several yards on Grand avenue are the same size of those found by deputy sheriffs outside the three homes on Yorba street in Tustin, which were robbed Tuesday night.

Walter Somerby surprised a burglar at 9 o'clock last night when he drove his automobile into the driveway at 527 North McClay street. A man leaped from a side window as the car entered the yard. The window and screen were damaged, but nothing was stolen.

Ross Purdie, who resides at a rooming house at Fourth and Spurgeon streets, today told the police that someone broke into his room before 6 p. m. yesterday and stole a suit of clothes and a ruby ring. Fifty dollars in currency had been taken yesterday from the bunk-house of William Pollard near Tustin, it was reported today at the sheriff's office.

A fraction of a grain of musk will scent a room for years, and the curious thing about it is that at the end of that time its weight is not diminished in the least.

prehensive plan for conduct of the community chest. The recommendation evidenced careful study of methods employed in other communities where the community chest plan has been in effect.

It was recommended that the Santa Ana Community Chest council should be incorporated, and include the entire directorate of all participating agencies, providing each directorate does not exceed fifteen members.

"The body should meet annually and choose three members at large to the board of directors," says the report. "The board of directors will be composed of one representative of each participating agency and three members at large."

A budget committee should be appointed to scrutinize the agencies' budgets, it was suggested.

Persons subscribing funds will be privileged to designate to which particular organization their contribution should go.

Advisability of Santa Ana presenting a local program on National Defense day, September 12, was recommended.

Two years of age, is a college man, educated in several professions. On the other hand, the girl, while possessing unusual beauty, was a "diamond in the rough," jail officials declared. She was a native of Alabama but could not tell how old she was. In court on the day she was sentenced she gave a birth date that would make her now only seventeen years of age. At the time of her arrest her age was given as nineteen.

Auto Law Fines Here Total $225

Court records of Justice Jack Landell today showed collection of $225 in fines from violators of the motor vehicle laws who were haled into court yesterday. Fifteen defendants appeared.

Sitting as city recorder of Santa Ana, Landell assessed fines of $10 or ten days in jail against Steve Acevedo, 18, and Leandro Bielma, 18, who were charged with disturbing the peace. Bielma paid the fine while Acevedo started serving his sentence.

The youths were arrested near the band concert at Birch park Tuesday evening. Acevedo being pursued five blocks by an officer before being captured.

ferred to the civics affairs committee, with recommendation that it get in touch with heads of local patriotic bodies and suggest that such bodies co-operate in preparation of a program of a nature that will put before local residents the purpose of defense day.

Following a report by A. L. Oiler, secretary, that a group of members were $100 in arrears in their dues to the Chamber, the membership committee was directed to make an active effort to induce delinquent members to meet their pledges. The membership committee is composed of J. W. Estes, Orlyn Robertson, Fred Newcomb, Charles Mitchell and Harry Hanson.

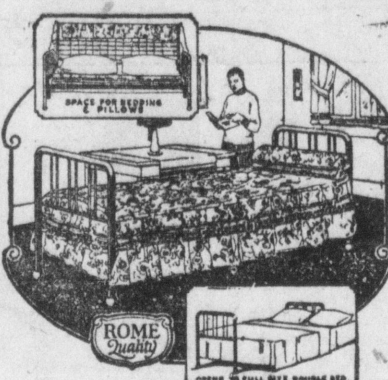

Request of the Salinas Chamber of Commerce that the local chamber send to President Coolidge a protest against a reduction of the tariff on sugar was referred to the horticultural and agricultural committee, headed by H. E. Wahlberg, county farm advisor.

With a Victrola you choose the music, the artists and the hour

Every music-lover treasures the memory of some concert, some operatic performance, some music event in which a favorite artist has appeared. The Victrola and Victor Records only, permit you to recall such cherished hours in the most realistic way; permit you to arrange such programs at such times as the artists themselves might do if they played for you alone. Even then it would be impossible to receive in a single evening one-tenth of the artists whose great gifts are at your disposal at any moment through Victor Records and Victrola Instruments.

Victrola No. 50 (Portable) $50 Mahogany or oak

Victrola No. 80 $100 Mahogany, oak or walnut

Victrola No. 215 $150 Mahogany, oak or walnut

There is but one Victrola and that is made by the Victor Company—look for these Victor trade marks.

Red Seal Records

(A Love Song (Sara-Lover) John McCormack 1020 $1.50

(Little Yvette (Wendell-Wood) John McCormack 1020 $1.50

Charmingly melodious songs, the first one from "The Magic Ring." It was a quaint, Schubertian melody, and its companion, if possible, even a quainter one. Superb records—the John McCormack we all know so well and love to hear.

(Mazurka in F Sharp Minor Ignace Jan Paderewski 1027 1.50

(Chopin) Piano Solo Ignace Jan Paderewski 1027 1.50

The peculiar wizardry of genius doubly gleams in these numbers—two of the most melodious of Chopin's mazurkas, played by a hand that never errs, controlled by a mind that never ceases to feel; and recorded by the Victor method that is perfection itself.

(Lolita (Serenade) (A. Buzzi-Pecora) In Italian Titta Ruffo 1019 1.50 (Perjura! (Fickle Maidens) (Miguel Lerda de Tejada) Titta Ruffo 1019 1.50

(In Spanish)

Love songs of the rarest beauty; subtle and entrancing rhythm and glorious melody. Both songs magnificently sung by this great baritone—and just as beautifully recorded.

Vocal Records

(Three Fishers Went Sailing (Kingsley-Hullah) Kathryn Meisle 45423 1.00

(Afterwards (Lemon-Mullen) Kathryn Meisle 45423 1.00

Charles Kingsley's famous sea-coast song with its declaration that "men must work and women must weep," and a tuneless companion. Sung in splendid, deep, tragic contralto, with true understanding, and a fine record is the result.

(Old Plantation Melody Wendell Hall 19392 .75

(Pickaninny Lullaby Wendell Hall 19392 .75

with violin and guitar—guitar by Robinson

Waltz songs of Wendell Hall's own composing, sung to different accompaniment combinations of ukulele, violin, piano and a guitar in which Carson Robinson is especially featured. Typical Wendell Hall numbers and typical Victor recording.

Pipe Organ Record

(Nearer My God to Thee (Adams-Mason) Mark Andrews 19395 .75

(Abide With Me (Lyte-Monk) Mark Andrews 19395 .75

A pipe organ record which reproduces perfectly the many tone colors of this noblest of instruments. The records, of universally beloved hymn tunes, made in an actual church, are rich and expressive beyond anything in recording experience.

Dance Records

(By the Waters of Minnetonka—Fox Trot } Paul Whiteman and 19391 .75

(Meditation from Thais—Fox Trot } His Orchestra 19391 .75

Clever and brilliant fox-trots based on Thurlow Lieurance's "By the Waters of Minnetonka" and the Meditation from Massenet's "Thais." More Whiteman innovations—and amazing ones! Such records as only the Victor brings you.

(My Beautiful Brunette—Fox Trot } International Novelty 19393 .75

(Love Me—Tango Fox Trot } Orchestra 19393 .75

Stately fox trots, one a "tango fox trot" from Latin-American sources. Easily danced to—and superbly played—with long smooth waves of rhythm and fine melodies. Delightfully recorded, too.

(Africa—Fox Trot (from "Innocent Eyes") Jack Shilkret's Orchestra 19394 .75

(caval refrain by Billy Murray) Waring's Pennsylvanians 19394 .75

(Virginia—Fox Trot (from "Sweet Little Devil")

Vivid-colored fox trots from stage successes. The second number is more dignified than the first, but not too much so. Both are excellent dance records.

CALIFORNIAN FALLS TO DEATH IN OMAHA

OMAHA, Neb., Aug. 21.—Miss Catherine Ford, 51, Santa Barbara, Calif., fell to her death on the sidewalk from an eight story room in which she was undergoing treatment for a nervous disorder, at a hotel here today.

Rose Cavalleri, a nurse at St.
Barbara hospital, Santa Barbara, who had been treating Miss Ford, said her patient had leaped from the window to her death below.

The nurse was being held by police, however, pending an inquest.

Miss Cavalleri said she was bringing Miss Ford from Santa Barbara to the home of her brother, Gene Ford, a farmer, living near Independence, Iowa.

The fact that the body was cold when found led police to hold Miss Cavalleri. They believe Miss Ford, if she leaped from the window, must have done so many hours before Miss Cavalleri reported the tragedy.

NEW TRIAL SOUGHT
IN SLANDER CASE

Possibility that the Lew H. Wallace-Lee Pfau feud over alleged slander of Wallace by Pfau might be revived and their $50,000 court battle refought in the superior court, appeared today with the announcement that Wallace's attorneys will move for a new trial.

At the first trial recently a jury denied Wallace's suit, based on the claim that Pfau had slandered him by asserted charges of dishonesty in office. The charges, admitted by Pfau to have been made, were directed against activities of Wallace as city treasurer of Newport Beach and secretary of the harbor commission. Pfau contended the charges were true.

Judge F. C. Druman today signed an order allowing Wallace's counsel until September 2 to prepare the proposed motion for a new trial.

LOCUSTS HIT CROPS
JOHANNESBURG, Aug. 21.—Locusts have ravaged crops throughout South Africa. Cotton in the Rustenburg area has been destroyed and hundreds of farmers have lost the whole of the year's income. Gen. Hertzog, the prime minister, recently appointed a day of humiliation and prayer owing to the continuance of the plague.

Among the intellectual movements of the New Turkey is the talk of establishing a national library in Constantinople. The mosques of that city have been long known to have ancient manuscripts of great value, which it is now proposed to collect and classify.

SLEEP WITH GUNS
DURBAN, South Africa, Aug. 21.—
Durban and other parts of South Africa are swept by a crime wave.
An epidemic of organized crime has resulted in a reign of terror, with the police powerless to cope with the bandits and murderers who have come into the colony from other parts of Africa. Europeans in Durban are sleeping with revolvers under their pillows.

Community Music and Drama association at Ketter's cafe last night. D. Eymann Huff, chairman of the committee, announced today.

Present at the meeting also were details of plans for procuring a large number of sustaining mem-

COUNTY'S GAIN IN VALUATION
$14,475,388

Indicating the wealth of Orange county and rapid and substantial increases in property valuation, figures compiled by the state board of equalization disclosed today that Orange county was third among the counties of the state making a gain in 1924 assessed valuations.

Based on valuations of non-operative property, Orange county showed a gain of 6.3 per cent, according to the state board. Los Angeles county was first, with a gain of 40 per cent, and Alameda was second, with an increase of 10 per cent.

According to James Sleeper, county assessor, and W. C. Jerome, county auditor, the Orange county gain largely was because of building improvements made in the county for the year and the large number of subdivisions that were placed on the market.

Sleeper says that 275 subdivided tracts were added during the year, each averaging, he estimated, five acres.

Increase Here $14,475,388
In Orange county, the total increase in valuations on operative and non-operative properties was approximately $14,475,388, the definite amount not being available by reason of the fact that computations on operative property had not been completed today. According to Jerome, the latter valuation is in excess of $21,000,000, as compared with $16,471,067 for last year.

The valuation placed this year on non-operative property is $154,244, 900, as against $144,298,448 for the previous year.

Considering the area of Orange county, the gain shown is remarkable when compared with the two counties that exceeded this county in gain," Sleeper said.

Reviewing the assessed valuation of California, the state board disclosed that the gain over 1923 was $540,402,261, the total full valuation of all property in the state being $12,750,000,000.

Assessed Value Told
The total assessed valuation of all non-operative property is $5-531,187,598, indicating an actual value of $11,250,000,000. Adding the total value of operative properties, approximately $1,500,000,000, gives the grand total of $12,750,000,000.

The board estimates that on the new valuations the state's income for general fund purposes will be $48,662,998, an amount in excess of the sum appropriated by the legislature for the year. An ad valorem tax will not be necessary, it was announced.

A statement by the equalization board says that virtually all counties in the state show an increase in assessed valuations.

According to reports the tremendous gain of 40 per cent made by Los Angeles county seemed to out of proportion that county officials have started a recheck to make sure the figures reported to the state board were not erroneous.

BUSINESS FLOW
AT PORT HELD
U. S. AID KEY

Once commerce has begun to flow through Orange county harbor congress will be more prone to be friendly to its claims for recognition through an appropriation for development work.

In the opinion of many supporters of the harbor development plans who yesterday attended the supplementary hearing at Newport Beach before Major Henry A.
Finch, government district engineer, on the matter of barge shipments to the harbor from Los Angeles, that was among the most important statements made.

Coming from Major General Lansing H. Beach, former chief of staff of army engineers, it carried more weight than probably could have been given it by any other individual not now engaged in government work, according to Harry Welch, secretary of the Orange County Harbor Chamber of Commerce.

In view of General Beach's statement the presentation of data on the possibility of barge shipments took on a new interest and importance to harbor supporters,
Welch said.

Others Give Facts.
Among those who presented briefs in both verbal and written form was D. Eymann Huff, chairman of the shipping committee of the committee of fifty. Huff told of the appointment and the work of the committee and its various sub-committees. He presented a valuable summary of his committee's work. He was followed by H. S. McGaffey, who is now planning to enter the carrying business and to demonstrate his faith in the work is building a barge carrier to operate between San Pedro and Newport bay.

Walter Wheaton gave an interesting outline of the growth of Los Angeles, with which he has been in close contact for many years.
His remarks were supplemented by a variety of interesting items giving details regarding the growth of Los Angeles and the future which might reasonably be expected for Newport bay.

Statistics Presented.
W. J. Tway, of the Santa Ana Lumber company, gave statistics on lumber shipments which might be expected to use Orange county harbor. A. B. Rousseau, of the industrial committee of Santa Ana, told of the plans for factory sites at reasonable prices and the need for distribution as against concentration of industries, population and shipping.

In addition to General Beach, Major Finch was accompanied by Capt. Hughes, of the engineer's office at San Pedro, and Mr. Cram, statistical engineer for the army engineer's office in Los Angeles.

Many Orange county citizens were present to present information, including Dr. C. G. Huston, president of the Harbor Chamber of Commerce; Lew H. Wallace, C.
S. Browne, George T. Peabody and several others.

The meeting was held at the Newport Harbor Yacht clubhouse.
After the meeting the army men went over the bay and made examinations of the entrance and jetty.

REDDING, Cal., Aug. 21.—How deeply the rays of sunlight have penetrated the strata of alleged eternal snow this year in California is evidenced by a discovery in the Moralin of Mount Shasta's rampaging east glacier.

The carcass of a mountain sheep, believed to have been "on ice" for 50 years was discovered by a party of mountaineers from McCloud.

No sheep have been on Shasta since 1872, and it is believed that one of the diminishing flock fell into a crevice and made his escape only when the glacier slipped two weeks ago.

With a heavy fall of snow on the summit and more storms due, the top cap of the river of ice is expected to hold unless another excessive warm spell comes along.

Hundreds of people are visiting the "devastated area" where the glacier ran away and plastered miles of the scenery about the base of the mountain with silt.

INDEMNITY BOND TO PROTECT FAIR

RIVERSIDE, Aug. 21.—An indemnity bond in the sum of $30,000 issued by the famous Lloyds of London will protect the Southern California Fair association against damage to property and spectators during the big auto race meeting which will be held on Labor day over the local track. Negotiations for the bond were conducted by cable, several days being required to put through the deal whereby the insurance was finally issued.

Floyd Roberts, Van Neys youth who has won many races in the light car class at Ascot, yesterday filed his entry for three of the six events on Labor day. The rivalry between Roberts and Frank Lockhart, holder of the world's light car record, is intense and is bound to result in some desperate driving when the pair meets here Labor day.

Leon Duray, world's champion,
Cliff Bergers and Eddie Meyer, Redlands favorite, will begin practice over the local track the last of the week.

WILL HEED LAW NOW HULL, England, Aug. 21.—Hull police men are allowed to smoke. But Officer Cannahan found a secluded spot along a public swimming pool and lit a cigar in defiance of the edict. Catching sight of his Lieutenant walking toward him, Callahan thrust the cigar into his pocket. His clothes caught fire, he jumped into the pool and the Lieutenant rescued him from drowning.

MID-AIR LABORATORY
LONDON, Aug. 21.—An airplane fitted with a miniature laboratory has been built by the Aeronautical Research Committee of the Air ministry. When the pilot carries out various maneuvers in the air, the observer will make records from a variety of dials and gauges.
In this way theories will be tested

BOX CAR GOOFS PARADE, PICK OFFICERS

Following the parade of "Goofs" who startled the citizens of Huntington Beach with their fantastic adornments, members of the county vulture of the 40 and 3, the Forty Horses and Eight men branch of the American Legion, gathered at the beach city auditorium and elected officers.

L. E. Mitchell, adjutant of the Huntington Beach post, was elected chief de gare, Claude Potter of Orange, chief de train; P. B. Hess of Huntington Beach, commissaire; L. W. Blodgett of Huntington Beach, correspondent; D. C. Jones of Fullerton, garde de la porte; H. L. Sherman of Balboa, William Weiland of Santa Ana, Harry Wilhelm of Anaheim, Sam Collins of Fullerton, O. Thornton of Brea, cheminots; Charles Nussbaumer of Santa Ana, representative at national convention in St. Paul next month; W. A. Miller of Fullerton, alternates.

The Orange, Riverside and San Bernardino county vultures will join in the next meeting, the date, time and place for which will be announced soon, Mitchell said. A number of Los Angeles "box car" Legionnaires attended the meeting last night.

Dainty Scent Is Trap For Two in Robbing Women

Because two five dollar bills came into contact with the dainty face powder and perfume Mrs. Earl Lander, 808 West Commonwealth avenue, Fullerton, carried in her vanity case, Robert Ruiz, 23, and Julian Perez, 24, both of Fullerton were today in jail accused of robbery.

The two were employed, according to Chief of Police Arthur Eells of Fullerton, at the home of Mrs. Lander, installing furniture for Isadore Edelman of Long Beach. In the afternoon Mrs. Lander found that two bills had been taken from her vanity case. Police called, went over the Lander garden with a rake and found two bills strongly scented.

Mrs. Lander identified the money by the odor. Edelman was not held. Ruiz and Perez were to appear today before Justice of the Peace Henry Hart to answer to the robbery charge. Eells said they had confessed.

Oriental 'Check Artist' Suspect Seized at Beach

Police at Huntington Beach today "nipped in the bud" what they asserted was a "drive" on the part of M. Nishi, Japanese, 35, alleged writer of fictitious checks, on merchants there.

After passing a check at the L. E. Hendrickson jewelry store ostensibly signed by a Huntington Beach Japanese, by which Nishi is said to have secured a $25 gold watch and $10 in change, the Japanese is said to have attempted to "cash in" on a bit of worthless paper made out for $25 payable to the T. R. Canady jewelry store, Canada, according to the police, refused to cash the check and the Japanese hurried to the Western-haver clothing store with it.

The suspicions of a clerk aroused, Nishi was arrested when the check was reported of no value by the Huntington Beach bank on which it was made out. City Marshal Jack Tinsley said that Nishi tallied with the descriptions of a clever Japanese "bad check man" wanted to face charges in Los Angeles, Bakersfield, Fresno and several other cities.

Experiments in thirty-two American cities indicate that 17.6 per cent of accidents occurring at night are due to inadequate illumination.

AFRAID SHE COULD NOT LIVE

Operation Advised, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Made It Unnecessary

Glasgow, Kentucky.—"I was run-down, nervous, with no appetite. My side had given me trouble for five or six years. At times it was all I could do to live, and the doctor said I couldn't live but a short time longer without an operation. That was two years ago. My sister-in-law recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. She had never used it herself, but she said one of her neighbors suffered just like I did, and it cured her. After I had taken four bottles the pain left my side. I had a fine appetite to eat anything that was put before me, and I began to do all my work and my washing, something I hadn't done for years. I am a dress-maker, and this last fall I began suffering with my side again, so I began taking the Vegetable Compound again. I am on my fourth bottle, which makes eight in all I have taken. I feel so much better when I take it and everybody tells me I look better. My appetite improves and I feel stronger in every way. I am a very nervous woman and it seems to help my nerves so much."—Mrs. MAGGIE WALLER, Glasgow, Kentucky.

Surprise Card Party Tendered Host on His Birthday

Successfully carrying out a birthday surprise on her husband, Walter F. Sorenson, Mrs. Sorenson conspired with a group of their friends to enjoy a delightful evening at cards Tuesday night at their home, 520 Wisteria Place.

Arrival of the laughing group found the host completely unprepared for such a celebration of his natal day, but he was equal to the occasion and entered into the spirit of merriment which prevailed.

Mrs. Sorenson had rifled the garden of pink and white asters which she used in a charming profusion in decorating her home. Their color tints were repeated in the refreshment menu which followed the lively evening of cards.

One of the most interested of the guests was Mrs. Paul Anderson of Green Bay, Wisconsin, a sister of the honoree who recently arrived for a visit in the Sorenson home. Mrs. James Hansen of Colman, Wisconsin, Mr. and Mrs. John Lassen of Oconto Falls, Wis., Mrs. Peterson of Denmark Falls, Wis., who is visiting her daughter, Mrs. F. F. Sorenson, and Messrs. Paul Lassen and George Jensen of Hollywood completed the list of out-of-town guests.

Santa Ana friends sharing in the pleasure of the evening were Messrs. and Mesdames M. Faccou, M. Nisson, H. P. Lykke, A. M. Faccou, Edward Schultz, F. Faccou and F. E. Sorenson and children.

News Notes of Interest To Women

Smart Little Dinner Welcomes Return of Eastern Travelers

Adding immeasurably to the pleasures of the summer season have been the many intimate little dinner parties forming a series presented by Dr. and Mrs. F. W. Slabaugh and Dr. and Mrs. Harry Zaiser, the latest of which was given last night at the Slabaugh home, 1602 North Main street.

Special guest honors were accorded Mr. and Mrs. Samuel W. Nau and Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Boyer who only recently reached home from an extensive eastern and northern trip, having left in time to attend the Democratic-National convention in New York City.

While the animated talk at the dinner table was of "ships and shoes and sailing-wax" yet the travelers' tales recounted by the four vacationers were of special interest since their journey had taken them into unusual parts of the United States and on into Canada in the Prince Rupert country.

The table was an artistic study in red-rose tones shading from the delicate pink of wee rose-buds adorning the place cards, into the deep reds of pom-pom dahlias centering the table and nodding to their reflection in a mirrored plateau. The dinner was served faultlessly by Miss Virginia Slabaugh and Miss Georgia Gray. Covers were placed for Dr. and Mrs. Slabaugh, Dr. and Mrs. Zaiser, Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Boyer, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel W. Nau, Mr. and Mrs. John E. Gowen and Mrs. Eleanor Elliott.

Mah Jong and the political situation divided honors during the remainder of the evening except during an all-too brief interval when Mrs. Slabaugh consented to sing a delightful little group of French songs and Miss Virginia gave a very charming violin solo.

Miss Helen Slabaugh, younger daughter of the home, left early yesterday morning for La Jolla to join the Lewis Moultons and their two young daughters who are vacationing there. She will be gone about ten days.

Missionary Society

The hospitable P. A. Robinson cottage at Newport Beach was the scene of a very happy gathering Wednesday when the Women's Foreign Missionary society of the First M. E. church met for a day of pleasure and business.

After members had partaken of a bountiful pot-luck dinner, the president, Mrs. Horton Palmer, called on Mrs. W. B. Snow to give the devotional lesson, the subject being "The Art of Conversation." Quotations from many noted authors were used and new thoughts on the subject were helpfully presented.

Three very special events anticipated will be the mite box opening under the direction of Mrs. Leonard with an excellent program Friday, August 29, at 2:30 p. m. in the church parlors, a religious play under the supervision of Miss Holly Lash now under preparation and the date to be announced later, and the last meeting of the year to be held in September.

Mrs. Palmer announced that there has been consummated the securing of two memorial memberships for two of the faithful past members. Mrs. J. C. Gardner and Mrs. Harris, daughter of the honorary president, Mrs. W. O. McLeal. In the latter memorial the staff of the post office most graciously contributed a large part.

Musical number were given by Miss Marjory Arnold and Miss Pearl Lewis on their Hawaiian steel guitars. These were much enjoyed and appreciated. Mrs. Myers of Bakerfield, who was a member of this auxiliary while in Santa Ana, brought a happy message. Mrs. Delmar French then presented the study lesson on South America and Mexico, using the map and bringing a very comprehensive interpretation of the history of those countries.

Mrs. D. J. Palmer then presented a pageant, assisted by Mrs. Hutchins, dressed in cap, cape and skirt entirely covered with pictures from the monthly magazine, "The Missionary Friend," she being "Missionary Friend." Mrs. MacDonald dressed in costume of South America, and Mrs. Kimball (the member who has been in the society since its organization in 1869). Mrs. Betts and Mrs. Horon Palmer gave facts relative to South America and Mexico as found in "The Friend," which brings messages from all the missionary fields in such interesting articles every month. "Missionary Friend" then made a plea for more readers and more subscriptions.

Mr. and Mrs. Robinson graciously invited the auxiliary for the next August meeting at their cottage and all the ladies present voted them excellent hosts.

Club Girls Welcome Return of Member From Illinois

Expressing their pleasure at the return of Miss Hazel Milligan from a summer in Rockford, Ill., members of the A. D. club last night made her the honor guest at a delightful party given by Mrs. Olive Seba at her pretty home in Orange.

A brilliant color note was sounded by the hostess in all her decorations for the evening, for great bowls were filled with asters in bright cerise and at the late supper hour it was discovered that all the appointments were in the same lovely color, with place cards and nut cups to harmonize.

The supper menu offered chicken salad, coffee and fruit cream whips and followed a merry evening of needlework and many interesting games. In one contest the prize winner was Miss Milligan who was presented with a lovely gift from her hostess, Mrs. Seba was assisted in all her pleasant hostess duties by her sister, Mrs. Mabel Vandewalker.

During the evening the girls were keenly interested in the reading of a letter from an absent member, Mrs. Grover W. Snyder who sailed some weeks ago with Mr. Snyder for Shimizu, Hokkaido, Japan. Mrs. Snyder related many little personal details of her life in Japan, all of which were new and strange to her friends. Her new home she describes as being most comfortable but strangely lacking in modern improvements with the exception of electricity, payment for which is based not on the number of kilowatts used but on the number of globes in the house.

The Americans are objects of intense interest to the Japanese who congregate at their home by tens and twenties every afternoon and evening to enjoy music and an attempt at learning English. Tokyo and Yokohama in their present condition since the earthquake, were vividly described by Mrs. Snyder who declared that there is scarcely anything left of the latter city, even the customs office and equally necessary harbor buildings being but small, temporary huts. Concrete piers are down and all the pier buildings destroyed. Tokyo is not in such absolute ruins but the park opposite the Imperial hotel, once a beauty spot of Japan, is now filled with small huts to shelter the refugees who seem almost completely ignorant that there is anything better for them.

Club members enjoying Mrs. Snyder's letter and the other pleasant events of the evening were the hostess, Mrs. Seba, the honoree, Miss Milligan, and the Misses Almee Larson, Gladys Young, Peggy Seba, Mrs. Bess Mathis, Mrs. Elsie Harris, Mrs. Stella Spencer, Mrs. Elsie Ray, Mrs. Mabel Vandewalker and Miss Alverta Perkins, a guest of the evening.

The next meeting will be held in two weeks at the home of Mrs. Nina Davis.

Tomorrow afternoon the Women's Benefit association of the Maccabees will meet at 2:30 o'clock in Modern Woodman hall for the usual business session. All members are urged to be present and any visiting members are assured of a cordial welcome should they wish to visit the lodge.

Laguna Beach Club Continues Series Of Card Events

Interest of Southern California club and society women again centered in Laguna Beach Tuesday afternoon as evening when the second big Community card party was presented amidst the artistic appointments of the Community club.

Graceful eucalyptus boughs gave a woodland effect to the great clubroom where tables were arranged for scores of players at each of the two sessions. Baskets of brilliantly tinted flowers gave the desired touch of color and the open doorway at the rear of the stage was framed by a large arching which gave the effect of a framed picture of the sweeping Laguna hills.

Prizes at both functions were canvases donated by Laguna Beach artists and were most beautiful and eagerly sought after by the interested players. The picture donated by Jack Wilkinson Smith was awarded to Mrs. F. R. Richardson of San Gabriel as first prize at bridge in the afternoon. Second prize in bridge was won by Mrs. H. A. Spencer of Balboa and the picture donated by Grace Volmer. High score in Five Hundred in the afternoon was won by Mrs. Edward Cripp of Laguna Beach who was given the William Swift Dangle painting.

The first door prize in the afternoon was won by Mrs. Ham of San Bernardino and she proudly carried away the painting donated by F. W. Cuprien. Second door prize, the picture by Karl Yens, was won by Mr. C. D. Brommer of Laguna Beach. Third door prize a picture by Fannie Winchell was won by Mrs. J. I. Carpenter of Fullerton.

During the evening, players rolled up some good scores and Miss Lolita Perine of Laguna Beach carried away high award, a picture by Mabel Lord Frost. Second prize went to Mrs. Frank Champion of Laguna Beach who was awarded a picture by Ann Robinson. High score in five hundred was won by Mrs. M. F. Cumming of Los Angeles and she picked the picture donated by William Griffith. First door prize was awarded to Miss Anna Carlson and was a picture donated by R. Clarkson Colman and second door prize, a picture by Catherine Strode was awarded to Mrs. Allie Goff.

Third door prize, a picture by Florence Peet Hanson, was won by No. 470, holder unknown. This will be held for one week pending claim of owner. If not claimed it will go to Andrew Smith Hall, holding second choice.

Activities Resumed By the Members of Double L Club

After a virtual disbanding of the Double L club for the summer season during which the various members wandered far afield to enjoy their vacations, activities were resumed in a delightful manner at the home of Miss Ruth Robertson, 916 Cypress street when she entertained the members and a few guests.

Tall baskets of roses were used with excellent effect through the home, Miss Robertson also choosing roses to center the table where a dainty little supper was served at a late hour of the evening. Needlework and music offered entertainment as did the lively tales of vacation happenings which each member recounted.

Mrs. Frank Andrews, Jr., a charming Pocatello, Idaho, girl who came to Santa Ana quite recently as a bride, and Miss Frances Coen were greeted as guests while club members present were the hostess, Miss Robertson, Mrs. George Chapman, Mrs. Leo Schmiedeburg, Miss Eleanor Loesch, Miss Nora Lykke, Miss Jennie Pollard, Miss Verdelle Breckenridge, Miss Emma Douglass, Mrs. H. P. Vanderwalker and Mrs. J. H. Daniger.

Next Monday night the club members with their husbands and many friends will enjoy a dancing party at the Rendezvous in Balboa, returning to this city for a midnight supper at the Daniger home, 1020 Kilson Square.

Calumpit Camp

Members of Calumpit camp, United Spanish War Veterans and the Auxiliary, met at the home of Commander and Mrs. H. G. Miller of Tustin, for their regular monthly social meeting, last Tuesday.

After a short business session, enjoyable music was rendered by an orchestra, its members including Louis Stephens, R. Bounds and George Lahey. After several interesting games, everyone did justice to the bountiful supply of watermelon, coffee, punch and sandwiches.

The meeting was turned into a booster for Phil Swing and all members were urged by the adjutant to support him.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Waffie, Miss Adeline and Miss Lillian Kirkwood, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Tantlinger, the Misses Gene, Ruth and Norma Tantlinger, Mrs. A. P. NATION'S ONLY WOMAN IN LIVESTOCK BROKERAGE IS SILENT AS TO FLAPPERS

Asserts Men's Generosity Made Her Success Possible

The only woman livestock broker in the nation was in Santa Ana today but she would not allow herself to be quoted on flappers.

Neither would she praise the men nor condemn them.

"I will say nothing against any woman for I am a woman myself," she said at the home of Cleve Law, 1011 West Chestnut street, whom she and her mother are visiting.

Her name is Betty Singleton. "If it had not been for the generous treatment of the men engaged in my business I would not have been successful," she went on to say. "I can see no reason why the flapper should not be as much of a success in the livestock business as I have been."

Born and reared on a ranch, Miss Singleton became a stenographer in a stock brokerage office in Fort Worth after, she said, she had found the life of a feminine pedagogue "too tame."

"Contrary to the popular opinion of cattlemen," she declared, "I found them honest and fair in their dealings. Some people think everything connected with the stock yards is grasping and hard. Such a business gives one a wide, comprehensive view of life."

After a short time as stenographer Miss Singleton formed her own company and from the start was successful and made good in a business which keen financial men have admitted is hazardous.

Miss Singleton, who has now retired, at least temporarily, from the business of buying stock at first thought she would not go into the pens to look at the animals because she thought it was "too mannish," she admitted.

"But the excitement and the glamor of the game was too much for me to resist and I soon found myself in the yards," Miss Singleton averred.

She likes Santa Ana and when she quits her game for good she may settle here, she told a reporter.

In announcing his support of President Coolidge, the Michigan senator made it clear that he did not intend to take any orders from "party bosses."

S. A. BUILDING LEADS HIGH CITIES OF 9 STATES

NATIONAL 1924 CONSTRUCTION TOTAL NEARS NEW RECORD

$1,242,000,000 Spent For New Buildings In First Five Months

$133,000 IS INCREASE

March Breaks Marks Since 1913 With Permit Issue of $313,000,000

The first five months of 1924 produced a greater total of building permits throughout the United States than the same period of 1923, according to a survey of the volume of national construction just completed by the statistical department of the United Bonded Contractors' association of Southern California.

Volume of construction as represented by building permits issued in the principal cities of the nation for the first half of the present year, according to the association's survey, was $1,242,000,000. This sum included all classes of structures and in comparison with the volume of permits issued during the same period of the previous year, it was in excess to the extent of approximately $133,000,000.

The survey also shows that the largest amount of building since 1913 was recorded throughout the country in March of this year when the total number of building permits issued was $313,000,000.

The nearest approach to this tremendous volume of construction work, according to the survey, was reached in March of the previous year when the volume of permits represented $288,000,000. March of 1922 was also a prosperous month for the building industry as construction permits totaled $250,000,000.

A remarkable advance in construction permits issued in March of 1924 was also a prosperous month for the building industry as construction permits totaled $250,000,000.

$15,000 Garage At Anaheim Kraemer Plan

Harry D. Riley is to have a new home for his Studebaker agency at Anaheim, it became known here today, with announcement that Samuel Kraemer, wealthy resident of that city, had plans for erecting a new building at 151 South Los Angeles street, on the site of the present quarters occupied by the motor dealer.

The building will cost $15,000, it was announced. Issuance of the permit, expected before the end of this month, will bring the building permit total of that city for the month to $30,000. Permits for July totaled $52,000.

Association of Realtors Elect New Vice-Chief

A new vice-president and four new directors were elected at the quarterly meeting of the California Real Estate association held in Long Beach. Director Benjamin F. Wright, mayor of Monterey, was elected vice-president to fill the unexpired term of Emile E. Kahn, San Francisco, whose resignation after three years of faithful service was necessitated by illness in his family. In accepting the resignation of Kahn, the board of directors adopted a resolution highly commending him for the cause of the realtor in California. H. F. Metcalf, Los Angeles; W. J. El-Hott, Anaheim; George S. Gould, Salinas; and J. R. Woodward, South Pasadena, were the new directors elected.

The board of directors called on President Henry P. Barbour, who is rapidly recovering his strength, and Freeman H. Bloodgood, Santa Ana, as spokesman for the board, presented the president with a bouquet of flowers and expressed for the state association a cheery message and hearty congratulations upon his return to health.

By our volume of business to date we feel that we have the confidence of the people of Orange county. We appreciate this and intend to have it continue so. Kerfoot's Gene Morris One Day Auto Painting System, 410-412 W. 5th St.

FORECAST COST INCREASE FOR MATERIALS

Prices Still Lower Than at This Time Last Year Survey Discloses

Persons who have been contemplating the erection of residences, apartment houses or business structures in Santa Ana are beginning to realize that building costs are beginning an upward climb. While labor is available at the present time and prices of materials are much lower now than last year, higher costs are forecast, and this prediction is based on statistics obtained from all of the leading cities of the nation.

Last month the building materials market showed a firmer tone than at any time during the past three months, according to a report of the S. W. Straus national survey. Most grades of lumber were stabilized at June prices although many classes of southern pine registered material advances. While the decline in structural steel continued it was not so marked as in June.

Wage scales for skilled craftsmen in the building trades have held generally firm. In many cities advances have been accorded the workers since spring. There are, of course, isolated cases where reductions have been made, but these have been confined largely to small centers where operations have been light.

The payment of bonuses has been quite largely eliminated, although this does not indicate a reduction in labor costs as the bonuses have been absorbed in the advancing wage scales.

During the last three months there have been wage increases ranging from 2-1/2 to 12-1/2 cents, per hour granted to the principal building trades in Kansas City, Cincinnati, Pittsburgh, St. Louis, Baltimore, Buffalo, Louisville and Des Moines. Other cities in which certain wage increases have been granted, mostly to plasterers, bricklayers, painters, electricians and carpenters were Chicago, Dayton, Columbus, Milwaukee, Atlanta, Shreveport, St. Petersburg, Fla., Youngstown, New Haven, Johnstown, Pa., Erie, Cleveland, Houston, Birmingham and Sharon, Pa. In Chicago, steamfitters announced a raise to $1.37 1-2 an hour, effective July 1.

The common labor rate for the nation as applied to pick-and-shovel men was 56 cents for July as against 54 cents for the same month last year.

Bricklayers in the leading cities are receiving from $1 to $1.75; carpenters, 70 cents to $1.60; plasterers, 90 cents to $1.75; hod-carriers, 30 cents to $1.25; structural iron workers, 25 cents to $1.37 1-2; plumbers, 70 cents to $1.50; electricians, 70 cents to $1.50; hoisting engineers, 62 1-2 cents to $1.67 1-2; common laborers, 25 cents to $1.10.

SPEED MADE IN CONSTRUCTING NEW BUILDINGS

Both of these pictures were taken exactly one month after construction work had begun above the foundations, clearly demonstrating the remarkable progress being made on the two structures. The upper view shows the $87,000 Roosevelt school at First and Maple streets. The contractors intend to have the school ready for occupancy by September 15. The other structure is the $25,000 A. G. Flagg building at 114 North Broadway, which also is to be completed within a month and which will house one of the most modern printing establishments in Southern California.

EXPERTS SCOUT FOR INDUSTRY SITES HERE

Representatives of at least five different industrial concerns are in Santa Ana at the present time "scouting for a new location," according to A. L. Olliger, secretary.

Uniform Code For Builders

LONG BEACH, Aug. 20.—Relentless war was declared upon unscrupulous contractors by the Builders exchange executives of Southern California as the result of a meeting held at the Long Beach exchange headquarters last week. Fair play will be demanded for the small builder as well as the factory and office building customers, it was declared.

A uniform building code for Southern California was proposed and although no definite action was taken, there will be in the near future.

BARGE SERVICE SYSTEM PLANS DISCLOSED

Definite development of traffic for Orange county harbor in the immediate future became a possibility today, with announcement here by officials of the Hodges Transportation system that they had taken steps for the establishment of a barge service between the port and Los Angeles harbor. The announcement was made as result of the action of the board of supervisors Tuesday in authorizing the county clerk to advertise for bids for the construction on the county channel of a wharf 100 feet long and 34 feet wide. It is estimated the wharf will cost $5200.

Completion of the wharf, it was asserted by officials of the transportation company, would make facilities available for the handling of freight. According to T. B. Talbert, chairman of the board of supervisors, the wharf will be available to use by the general public. There will be no wharfage charges for a time, Talbert said, free use being offered as an inducement to shippers to use the harbor.

Program Explained Explaining the program, J. L. McBride, superintendent of county highways, said bids would be opened September 16, and that construction of the wharf would follow in a few days. Completion of the job, it was thought, would not require more than ten or fifteen days after work is begun.

McBride, who drew the plans, said the wharf would extend into the channel to a point where there would be ten feet of water at low tide. The plans, he said, had been drawn with a view to extending the wharf into deeper water whenever traffic developed to the point that greater depth was required. A crane for use in the loading and unloading of the barges small boats will be added at once, McBride said. This, it was stated, would be purchased by the county without asking for submission of bids for providing the equipment.

Await Wharf Completion Officials of the transportation company were not in position to say when they would be prepared to institute the proposed barge service, but expressed the belief

School authorities in Santa Ana are of the opinion that never before has such speedy work been done on a new school building in this vicinity, as is shown by the past month's construction activities at First and Maple streets where the new $87,000 Roosevelt school is rapidly nearing completion.

At the same time a record is being made in the erection of a two-story brick building on Broadway opposite the Grand Central Market block. This structure is being completed for A. G. Flagg who, during the last half of next month, will establish a job printing plant on the entire lower floor. A photographing plant, commercial photographer, an advertising firm and multigraphing plant will occupy the second floor. The first bricks for this $25,000 structure, which is 44x96 feet, were laid one month before the accompanying photograph was taken.

The one-story school building is 232 feet long and the "wings" are 180 feet on a side. There will be ten classrooms and a kindergarten department in addition to the necessary other rooms and offices. The walls are reinforced concrete, with stucco exterior. Workmen today were putting on the tile roofing.

According to the building contractors, the new school will be ready for occupancy when school opens September 15. The old Roosevelt building, which was moved to the rear of the lot, will be used for special departments, it was said.

S. A. BUILDING PERMIT TOTAL IS $101,730

With the announcement that permits with a total value of approximately $19,000 were issued during the past twenty-four hours, City Building Inspector W. S. Decker today announced that the $100,000 mark already had been passed this month. Decker also stated that so far this year 576 permits have been issued for construction costing $1,393,446.

With August two-thirds under way, as the building inspector expressed, 62 permits have been issued for a total of $101,730. This month's mark was boosted yesterday by the issuance of permits for construction costing $18,500. These were issued to R. M. Foster of 1003 Oak street, Dr. J. J. Jacobs, 1415 North Main street, C. K. Lee of Garden Grove, Nick B. Pappas of 921 West Third street and Roy Russell of North Broadway.

Russell will erect a $5000 stucco residence of six rooms and a garage at 516 West Santa Clara avenue. Pappas will build a six-room mission style house and garage at 1307 South Broadway at a cost of $5000. Lee will construct a $3100 six-room duplex residence on his Santa Ana lot at 801 Bush street. Dr. Jacobs is adding three rooms to his present residence at a cost of $1900. Foster intends to build a six-room residence and garage costing $3500, at 1105 Oak street.

AUGUST BIDS CERTAIN TO PASS JULY RECORDS

Los Angeles Is Fourth In National Construction, U. S. Survey Shows

Santa Ana again has made an enviable record.

A tabulation of new building permits issued in 343 leading cities in the United States during last month shows that Santa Ana's July's totals exceeded the highest record of any city in nine states. This city's totals also were surpassed by only one city in each of seven other states.

Judging from information at the office of the city building inspector here, the August totals will be even larger than the July figures.

The compilation of the value represented in permits for new buildings and for alterations and additions in the 343 principal cities had been made public today as the result of the national monthly building survey prepared by S. W. Straus and company.

S. A. Total is $137,205 The figures show that Santa Ana's total of $137,205 for July permits exceeded the largest total of any city in Montana, New Mexico, North Dakota, Wyoming, Mississippi, South Carolina, Idaho and Nevada.

Furthermore, it is disclosed that Santa Ana's July figures were passed by the totals of only one city in Delaware, one in Maine, one in Maryland, one in New Hampshire, one in Rhode Island, two in Colorado, two in Kansas, six in Michigan, three in Minnesota, two in Missouri, two in Nebraska, two in Oklahoma, three in West Virginia, two in Alabama, one in Arkansas, four in Georgia, two in Kentucky, three in Louisiana, three in Tennessee, three in Virginia, one in Arizona, two in Utah, four in Washington, and four in Oregon.

Further indications that good times are being enjoyed in this state are evidenced in the national survey which shows that three of the twelve leading cities, in point of July permits issued, are in California.

New York City, as usual, held first place in the total value of permits. Chicago was next, Detroit third and Los Angeles fourth with a slight lead over Philadelphia. San Francisco ranked tenth in the nation and Oakland twelfth. Seattle was twenty-first and Portland twenty-second.

Anniversaries Are Celebrated At County Park

ORANGE, Aug. 21.—Proud parents and grandparents of Masters Arthur Struck and Frederick Klander gathered last night at Orange county park to celebrate the seventh birthday anniversary of the former and the second anniversary of the latter. The little ones were regaled with presents by relatives.

A birthday dinner was served at the park with three birthday cakes gracing the table, one each being made by the mothers of the boys and one by one of the grandmothers. Candles decorated the cakes. Participating in the celebration were Mr. and Mrs. Albert Struck and children, Arthur and Dorothy; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Klander and son, Frederick; Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Struck, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hinrichs and sons, Robert and Joe; Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Gunther and children, Delores, Walter and Oscar Jr.; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Struck, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Struck and Mr. and Mrs. August Leichtfuss.

Imagination

Take the glass from your windows, the plaster and paper from your walls, hack out your interior finish. Throw away your gas stove, water heater and furnace. Cut the lead-in wires that now supply you with electricity and telephone service. Dump the ice from your refrigerator. Junk your radio and victrola along with most of your furniture. Tear out your plumbing and you will have some idea of what imagination has done for you in the past three hundred years, chiefly in the last fifty years. It has made the material part of what we mean by "HOME."

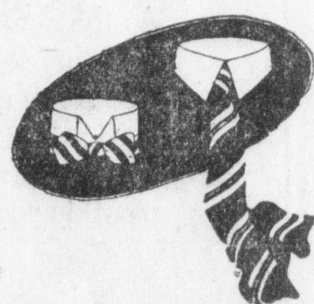

The PLAN SERVICE DEPARTMENT of the Barr Lumber Company does not claim to have extraordinary imagination. But it does have at its finger tips a large amount of information regarding recent results of the force of IMAGINATION applied to the building of HOMES.

"During the past two days I have talked with five industrial experts who said their corporations were interested in establishing plants here," Olliger said. "Their interest was aroused by the reports of the Chamber's recent industrial survey which had been circulated throughout the nation."

The secretary added that one of the factory representatives was from Chicago in the interests of a nationally-known company which at the present time is probing labor and living conditions and transportation facilities in Santa Ana. The Chicagoan expressed the opinion, according to Olliger, that after Eastern manufacturers have investigated that Chamber's industrial survey, large industries would be established here because of better labor conditions and lower costs for operating here. The secretary explained:

"The industrial survey shows that factory sites cost less here, construction costs are lower, climatic conditions assure greater all-year efficiency without the expense of installing or operating heating systems, a better class of labor is available, most of the nation's raw materials are near, a great market is at hand and Santa Ana has all of the favored transportation facilities."

TWO CIVIL WAR VETERANS ARE SUMMONED

Their ranks further thinned by the deaths of Henry L. Vanhise and Benjamin C. Smith, both residents of Santa Ana for many years, comrades of Sedgwick post No. 17, G. A. R., today prepared to take charge of impressive funeral services planned for these departed Civil War veterans.

Mr. Vanhise, aged 78 years, a rancher of Seventeenth street and Prospect avenue, died at his residence at 4:30 a. m. today following an illness of two months.

Mr. Smith, aged 87 years, died at 9:45 o'clock last night at his residence, 412 Fruit street. He had been ill but a short time.

Funeral services for Mr. Vanhise will be held from the Smith and Tuthill chapel here at 2 p. m. Sunday. Interment will be made at Fairhaven cemetery with Sedgwick post in charge of services at the grave. Announcements relative to the services for Mr. Smith had not been made at a late hour today.

Mr. Vanhise is survived by his wife, Mrs. Sarah Vanhise, and two daughters, Mrs. Guy Field, of Orange, and Miss Gladys Vanhise. His brother, Eiley Vanhise, resides in New Jersey and his grandson, Weldon Vanhise, lives at Orange.

Enlisting in the ranks at the age of sixteen, Mr. Vanhise served throughout the Civil war with the Second Missouri cavalry. He came to Santa Ana thirty-four years ago.

Mr. Smith is survived by his daughter, Miss Mattie Smith of this city. He came here fifteen years ago. He served with the Twenty-Third Indiana Volunteer infantry during the Civil war.

CITRUS FRUITS VALUE SET AT 125 MILLION

A wave of prosperity is breaking over California—and Orange county is not being aliased. Local reports show that this welcome era is benefitting the owners of farms—the backbone of the country.

While announcement is made of the bright prospects for the citrus industry, it is simultaneously reported from the districts growing deciduous fruits that the 1924 crop will bring close to $125,000,000. It appears that California fruit growers are enjoying higher prices this year than ever before in some products, the increase being as great as 100 per cent in some cases. Reports from the railroads state that it will require 60,000 cars to ship this year's fruit crop to the eastern markets.

From all over California come reports of increased activity in farm lands. In Orange county land which heretofore had been "idle" now is under cultivation with the assurance of bountiful crops.

Local real estate dealers declare that since the farmers of the mid-west have been getting high prices for their products, their inquiries regarding Orange county farms have more than doubled, and indications were that after the harvest season a record-breaking number of farmers will be en route west to settle here.

Woman Is Asked To Find Children She Has Adopted

AGIN, France, Aug. 21.—Madame Dincrah Galou must find several infants which she adopted unless she desires to stand trial for murder, officials have decided.

The woman—said to be a notorious adventuress, who at one time said her home was at Wellington, Calif.—has been questioned repeatedly regarding children which she adopted. None of the children have been found and the police believe she has been carrying on a traffic in babies.

"I have an abnormal love for children. Unable to become a mother myself, I have adopted many infants. I will be able to tell the whereabouts of all of them," she told police.

Another new phase in the case is that her husband, Dr. Galou, had been advertising in Paris medical journals for new born babies.

CONSTRUCTION TOTAL NEARING NEW RECORD

Construction activities throughout the nation, the survey indicates, occurred between January 1921 and the early months of the following year. Building permits for the first month of the former year were only $38,000,000 over the entire country, but by February of the latter year had climbed to more than $115,000,000.

Upward Trend Noted Building permits issued and plans filed in 324 cities for July, according to the national building survey of S. W. Straus and company, made public today, show an increase over last July of between 2 and 3 per cent, indicating that the volume of building throughout the country on the whole continues toward more normal levels.

The only region which reported unusual activity for mid-summer was the South, where 55 cities and towns showed a gain of approximately 35 per cent. The next most active region was the Central West where 105 cities reported a gain over last July of 5 per cent. The Eastern and Pacific Western states showed losses of 4 and 3 per cent respectively.

The volume of plans and permits in the 324 cities was $258,027,584 as against $252,245,981 last July and $284,890,252 in June this year.

Buaro Hen Lays Egg Entered In Barnyard Derby

At this time a hen owned by W. S. Chamness of Buaro road, between Fifth and Fifteenth streets, struts up to the charmed circle and tosses a glossy feather into the ring for the cackleberry championship.

The particular egg of the Chamness biddy, which is the latest entry in the Orange county egg laying contest as mentioned from time to time in the public prints, is more like a cucumber in shape than an ordinary egg. It is almost twice as long as it is wide.

A white Leghorn laid it. Chamness ran true to form in that he refused to allow the egg editor to eat the egg to determine if it was properly qualified to enter the contest. If the egg editor depended upon the entries for breakfast he would starve to death anyway, more so than he does at present.

The Chamness egg, it was reported, is the most "out of shaped egg" yet entered in the competition. It is eight and a half inches long and five and a half inches around the belt.

One end is very rough and much in need of a manicure. According to Chamness he has found a number of peculiar eggs in his nests this year but the particular egg he brought to the newspaper is, in his opinion, a "world beater."

BARGE SERVICE SYSTEM PLANS DISCUSSED

that they would be ready to begin within a short time after the wharf is completed.

Stating that the system now operates a motor freight line covering virtually all of Southern California, officials added the further interesting information that they now were engaged in development of plans for establishing a water service between Santa Barbara and San Diego, and that the service would be available to Orange county harbor.

Operating on the plans of railroads, the Hodge Transportation system maintains dispatchers and division points, according to the officials. Their lines were operated with tractors, instead of trucks, providing the motive power. Large trailers are employed. "With institution of our barge service, we will make Orange county harbor the central point for distribution of water freight developed in Orange, Riverside and San Bernardino counties," said the officials. "Likewise freight consigned to points in those counties will be delivered by our barges at Orange county harbor and from there distributed through our system."

LA FOLLETTE PARK MEET IS TONIGHT

Announcing that he would answer at the La Follette meeting at Birch park at 7:30 o'clock tonight, the attack made on La Follette by Charles G. Dawes, Republican candidate for vice-president, Adolph Germer, of Los Angeles, organizer of La Follette-for-President clubs, said here today that indications pointed to a large attendance at tonight's gathering.

Fred Jackson, editor of the Labor News published at Long Beach, also will be a speaker, he added.

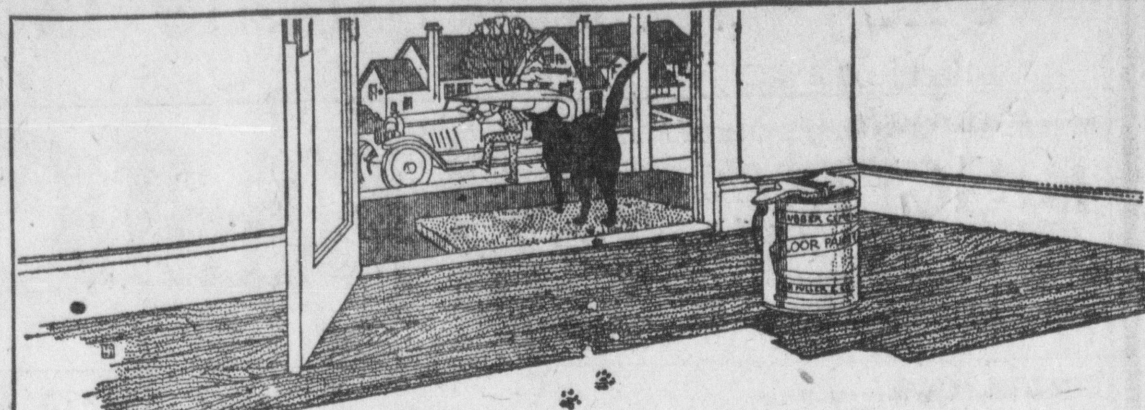

Organization of a club here is expected to follow the speaking program, according to Germer.

"A large number of local persons have expressed their willingness to join the club," Germer said.

WINTER Sweet Peas

Everybody loves them. Planted now they should start blooming by Thanksgiving time; and you, with ordinary success, should have a world of bloom by Christmas time.

They come in many colors—almost as many as do the summer-blooming varieties. We have the fresh seed in the Light Pink Rose Pink, Dark Red, Orange, Lavender, Purple and White and Mixed colors. Sweet peas need a fairly loose soil in which to develop the root system. They are heavy feeders and should be well fertilized with Sheep Manure or some other high grade, well rotted manure. They should be kept well watered. They should be carefully watched and dusted for Aphids. Rich soil is necessary for large blossoms, especially where the plants are closer than eight inches apart. Always keep the blossoms well picked off.

We handle Morse's grown Winter Sweet Peas. Just last month Morse won a couple more gold medals on his sweet peas at the Paris shows. We consider Morse's peas absolutely the finest money can buy.

For sale either in ten-cent packets or in bulk.

SAY SAVING IS ASSURANCE OF PROSPERITY

BY FRANK J. WAS
(Vice-President First National Bank)

When, last spring, Santa Ana and its immediate vicinity received a couple of so-called freak rains, raising our total rainfall a few inches over our neighboring counties, few of us realized how many dollars that would mean to us later on. Our soil is yielding now a fine harvest and our bear raisers are particularly favored by a market much higher than the average.

Virtually all of our communities' channels of income are showing satisfactory volume excepting lemon groves.

Everything points now to the release of a tremendous sum of cash in our midst during the next five months. National and international conditions becoming daily better, we may look toward the future with confidence and reasonable optimism.

Santa Ana is blessed with a number of "financially comfortable" men who take time to watch our community change for better or worse and study the causes. Every young man, no matter how busy, can well stop now and then to hear what they are saying. They are easily recognized. Most of them have gray hair or are bald.

Those men are wondering whether we will profit by our experience during the last two years and from now on save our money and keep away from excessive debts. If we do, our prosperity is assured. It might be well for us younger men to develop the habit of asking snowed up or shining down, whether on mountain or man, "Am I saving the money I should be saving?" It's a good habit if not carried to excess, of which there is little danger.

MONEY OFFERED NOW IN LAND DEALS HERE

As an evidence of improving business conditions, several Santa Ana real estate dealers announced today that "real money is coming into play" as consideration for the sale of property in this vicinity.

"Up until the past few weeks most of our real estate transactions have been in the form of some kind of a trade," John Knox, of the Knox and Stout firm, declared. "But now we are beginning to see actual cash that is being put up by purchasers of large and small properties alike."

"Instead of having to handle a lot of paper and securities," he continued, "the real estate dealers now are able to sift a few coins and genuine currency through their itching fingers. Times are getting good and money is loosening up."

A. B. Roussele, well known local subdivider, echoed Knox's sentiments. "No realtor can deny that business is picking up," Roussele stated. "We are getting more inquiries about homes and lots right now than we had at any other time this year. And Knox is right about more money coming to light. Money talks—and it's beginning to make a lot of noise in the real estate business."

SEA HOMESITE TRACT SALES HELD BRISK

A small city of beautiful residences occupied by persons who love nature is visioned by subdividers at Dana Point, and the realization of this dream seems assured for the near future, judging by the number of homesites reported sold since the formal opening of the "young city" last Saturday.

This rugged and picturesque bit of the Orange county coast, which has been described as "a beauty spot of historic interest and scenic splendor," is said to be destined to become a "community of culture and art."

Dana Point, formerly known as San Juan Capistrano Point, is being visited by steady streams of motorists, it is averred, who have just learned that lots are available which have an unobstructed view of mountains and sea—a view which for many miles up or down the coast is unbroken while on clear days several islands paralleling the coast may be seen some distance westward.

Dana Point is located one mile from the state highway, midway between Los Angeles and San Diego. It may be reached by motor or stage by taking the west highway from Irvine to Laguna Beach over paved road and thence south seven or eight miles over a graded road. The most comfortable way is through Irvine and San Juan Capistrano to Serra, from which there is a good road of only little more than one mile.

There is being planned, it is said, a daily round-trip steamer excursion from Long Beach.

Adjoining Dana Point also will be located, on 355 acres, the Dana Point Yacht and Country club with stately club houses, golf links, tennis courts and other features.

Candidate Is Interviewed FINLEY TELLS VIEWS AS TO VITAL POLITICAL MATTERS

S. H. Finley is a hard man to interview.

The interviewer has to run him down. He may find him at the courthouse with the Board of Supervisors or the Grade Crossings Elimination committee, at the Y. M. C. A. conducting a meeting of its trustees, at a meeting of the Santa Ana City Planning Commission, or at one of several other meetings of trustees and directors.

Or the interviewer might have to chase him into Riverside or San Bernardino counties, where, as a representative of this county, he might be meeting with the Water Conservation committee of the three counties, or the Tri-County Reformation committee.

Or he might have to seek him out on the highway inspecting some public work.

And wherever he would be found Col. Finley would be busy on the job.

That estimate of Col. Finley was given by two or three of his friends when the suggestion of an interview was broached.

So the interviewer met Col. Finley on the street. He was stepping along lively.

"Colonel," said the newspaper man, "It has been asked by some of those who are supporting you for re-elections as supervisor that you be interviewed. Tell me something of your views on subjects pertinent to your race."

"I'll jot something down," said the supervisor.

"All right," was the answer, and the interviewer for the moment was over. No words wasted by the colonel and not many by the interviewer.

The next day the interviewer and the colonel met on Fourth street.

"Got that?" asked the interviewer.

The colonel reached in his pocket and handed it out, and here it is, every word of it:

Service for Community

"I have been frequently asked how I can afford to devote as much time to various public enterprises and my answer is this. My entire professional and business experience has been in this community. Whatever of success I have been able to attain has been due to the fact that I have had the privilege, for 46 years, of co-operating with the splendid citizenry of this county in its upbuilding. It would be ingratitude if I did not render what small service I can, when called upon, whether there is any financial return or not.

"With the hearty co-operation of the other members of the board of supervisors practically all of the roads leading into Santa Ana have recently been paved; for example, Edinger, East Fourth, Bristol, Lyon, Santa Clara, Fairview, Tuslin, East and West 17th, Grand avenue, Placentia avenue.

"Other improvements along that line are contemplated as rapidly as funds are available.

"The one of most vital importance still to come I believe to be the proposed Manchester avenue line road from Los Angeles to and beyond Santa Ana. It is planned to be 100 feet wide paralleling the S. P. R. R. and, while not passing through the congested business section of any city, will be in close proximity to the four large cities of Fullerton, Anaheim, Orange and Santa Ana. The object is to provide a direct main line route with which the streets from all sections of the county can connect and keep through line truck and traffic vehicles from blocking thickly settled streets. Work on the right of way in Los Angeles county is already far advanced.

Water Conservation

"The question of water supply for this city and county is and will for some years continue to be one of vital interest. The start that Orange county has made in co-operation with Riverside and San Bernardino to conserve the flood waters of the Santa Ana river should be encouraged and the activities greatly increased from year to year. The Boulder Dam project is worthy of careful consideration and should receive our attention as a source of possible future supply.

Forest Fires

"The damage by fire to the forests and brush cover of our drainage areas, during the present season, has brought forcibly to the attention of all the necessity for drastic action in the future to prevent a recurrence of the menace.

"The vital connection of fire prevention with water conservation makes it necessary that the most intelligent attention be given to it in the future if Southern California is to continue to grow.

Harbor Matter

"My position on the harbor question has been grossly and I believe intentionally misrepresented by a few who perhaps have looked benevolently at the ultimate good of this county.

"My position is where it always has been, which is favorable to any orderly, progressive development, based on investigations and recommendation of capable government engineers, and directed by men of good judgment and proven ability evidenced by past business success.

"I oppose the reckless expenditure of public money until such conditions are met. Had such a policy been followed I believe we would now be in a position to invite at least as much commerce as we had 45 years ago before a dollar had been put on the harbor.

"To show the wisdom of my position I will mention a recent incident. Your readers will remember that a few months ago those who are criticizing me were very insistent upon the Supervisors calling a bond election, they $1,500,000 to build an east jetty and other features. Since that time we have advanced information from the U. S. engineers who have been making a survey, that an east jetty is not needed and in fact would be a distinct detriment. I submit, whose judgment is better, those who advised precipitate action or those who cautioned deliberation?

"Congressman Swing assures us that there is a strong probability of getting a government appropriation when the war department's findings are available as a basis for action. I ask again, which is the wiser business policy, to attempt this work ourselves immediately or wait a few months and if possible get the co-operation of Congress?

"Whenever there is a reasonable probability of a bond issue meeting with the approval of the voters I shall vote to submit the question.

SCHUMACHER DECLARES HIS INDEPENDENCE OF DICTATION FROM ANY ORGANIZATION

Over in the third district, which has been represented on the board of supervisors for twelve years by Bill Schumacher, they say that Bill Schumacher is not much of a hand to talk; that he is a doer rather than a talker.

Therefore, when it comes to interviewing Schumacher the interviewer could expect to get what Schumacher had to say in a few straight-forward simple words, without dodging and without any wobbling.

An interviewer like that is soon over unless the interviewer himself grows loquacious, Bill didn't.

"I'll never let any organization or bunch of men or person be supervisor through me," said Schumacher. "Any time I get myself into a position where I have to listen to the dictation of any organization, right there I quit being supervisor. A man can't be a good supervisor and serve his district to its best advantage unless he is free to use his own head and do his own thinking."

That, it seems, made up a rather long statement for Schumacher to get out of his system all in one breath.

"How many miles of paved highway have been put in your district since you went into office?" was asked. Schumacher's district is the third, comprising Anaheim, Fullerton, Placentia, Brea, La Habra, Buena Park and way stations.

"Sixty-seven," said Bill.

"How many miles were in when you became supervisor?"

"None."

"What's your attitude on water conservation?"

"I'm for it; always as supervisor I have been for it. It has been hard to get Riverside and San Bernardino counties to spend a pro rata as big as we have wanted it. Our board is for water conservation absolutely, and favors doing more and going faster along that line."

Up around the courthouse, it is said that Schumacher is the greatest go-getter on record when it comes to getting things for his district. It is tradition that if there is anything coming up in the way of a new appointment or a new appropriation, Schumacher is Johnny on the spot looking for it for the north end of the county.

"How about that?" was asked of Schumacher.

And Schumacher didn't answer. He just chuckled, and pretty soon he chuckled again.

IMPERIAL, TUCSON
DATE MEN TO MEET

EL CENTRO, Aug. 21.—For the first time in eight years the sharp tinge of a water shortage has thrust itself on the American farmers of Imperial valley.

"It demonstrates more forcibly than all arguments why we should have Phil D. Swing remain in congress and get the All-American canal," said Mike Leibert, pioneer rancher of Seely. "Now the Mexican land owners get their needs and we get the rest although the water is diverted from the Colorado river on American soil, every drop has fallen on American territory and belongs to Americans by right."

The water is being pro-rated to the American farmers in Imperial valley and the shortage may cost a very great loss to the cotton crop now ready for picking.

"But there will be no water shortage in Mexico," added D. F. Harbison, an old time farmer living near here.

Imperial valley demonstrated Monday to San Diego that she wants Phil D. Swing to stay in congress and if that county now fails to endorse him with a substantial majority it will demonstrate that all their protestations of friendliness to the back country were vain platitudes," said Earl C. Pound, president of the Imperial Irrigation district who was one of the 6000 in the parade there. Pound firmly believes however that San Diego will stand by Swing and the valley.

YARD PLANNING ADDS MUCH TO HOME BEAUTY

Santa Ana is winning a reputation as a beautiful residential city.

Visitors here often comment on the luxuriant shrubbery so tastefully arranged about the grounds surrounding large and small homes alike in this vicinity.

The planning of these pleasing effects is not done in a haphazard way—individual settings are arranged by Santa Anans who devote considerable time to studying the best landscape plan to fit the individual requirements of each home, according to J. L. Collins, local landscape designer.

Collins was formerly proprietor of the Collins nursery on North Main street and has had considerable experience in growing favorite plants and in arranging artistic grounds.

"Many factors must be noted in landscape work," he said. "Lawn designs must not clash with the architecture of the house, and special attention must be given to the blending of colors of blooming plants. Of course there are certain seasons for planting every kind of flower or shrub, and exposures to sun and shade also must be considered for different kinds of plants. Even the nature of the soil may determine the choice of the predominating shrubbery."

At present, Collins is installing a square sprinkler system and is building the lawns and beautifying with shrubs and trees the grounds at the new residence of Joseph Lowell, at Lowell avenue and West Tenth street. The trustees of the Katella school have placed with him an order for installing a sprinkler system and building lawns and placing shrubbery about the school.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 21.—Between the white bandages which hold Jack Dempsey's remodeled nose in place, schoolboyish blushes played today when the heavyweight champion was asked if a sweetheart had a part in his decision to undergo the facial landscaping.

Rumor current in Hollywood says that such was the case. It's no secret that the champion appears quite smitten. Estelle Taylor, one of screenland's fairest, has been the lady of his choice for many months past.

Manager Jack Kearns snorts a denial that Dempsey's new streamline nose was ordered because of any traits of vanity. It was purely a business matter, Kearns said.

"The champion had a dent in his nose which made it necessary for him to breathe through his mouth. Anyone knows that's bad for a fighter, but he had to do it.

'SUCKER' TOPIC FOR SPEECH BY PASTOR

Nobody Gets Something For Nothing Fullerton Man Tells Clubmen

FULLERTON, Aug. 21.—Taking as his subject "The Salvation of a Sucker," the Rev. Walter Thornton, yesterday afternoon delivered a particularly fine talk before the Rotary club.

"I have learned in common with most other folks," said Thornton, "that it is impossible to get something for nothing. The get-rich-quick schemes still continue to draw many suckers who figure they are going to make their fortunes by luck. I do not believe there is any such thing in the world. Success has to be worked for like most everything else. It generally means luck with a 'p' in front of it."

"There is more to be gained in the world of hard knocks and experience than in the colleges. Salvation comes to most of us sooner or later. With some it only comes after we have had some bitter experiences; others are more easily convinced of the futility of waiting for good fortune to come smiling along."

Tarkington Play To Be Given By Laguna Players

LAGUNA BEACH, Aug. 21.—"Clarence" is one of the latest and most successful of Booth Tarkington's plays, and is to be presented at the Laguna Beach Community club the evenings of Friday and Saturday, August 29 and 30.

This is the first venture into the full length play in Laguna Beach.

George Dunham, playing the leading role, gives to it full value of the soldier, wounded in target practice, and since recovery unable to get his position as a professor studying the Coleoptera, a species of beetle, has accepted a position in the Wheeler household. The subtle interpretation necessary for the delineation of this lachrymose character is being admirably portrayed by Mr. Dunham.

In support of the "lead" a well balanced cast is rounding out distinct and well sustained characters, each individual lending an intelligent touch of originality to his role.

The day of mimicry of the director has passed and the actor today is permitted to create a character for himself, being aided of course by the director in keeping his interpretation consistent throughout, and each actor related to his proper sphere in proportion to the whole.

How well the players are succeeding may be judged in seeing Rex Hoover, formerly of Santa Ana, as the adolescent youth, and Wanda Messinger as "Cora Wheeler," the girl sister of an age when she enjoys verbal tilts with her brother, yet already enamored of a young grass-widower. Ruth Hickox as the competent governess, and E. M. DeAnna as the tired business man and head of a discontented, roving family, are well cast.

A splendid interpretation may be expected of Edna McCann Folsom, who portrays the difficult role of the jealous mother, Mrs. Wheeler. On the minor characters Loren Homewood as the grass-widower, Robert Parker as the Wheeler butler, Phyllis Kuehny as "Della," the housemaid perpetually at war with the dignified butler of the household are well placed.

The play is filled throughout with the fulminating humor of which Tarkington is master and will undoubtedly prove the greatest comic hit of the Laguna Beach Community Players' season.

The cast of characters in order of their appearance is: Miss Martyn Unseen Mr. Wheeler E. M. DeAnna Mrs. Wheeler Edna M. Folsom Bobby Wheeler Rex Hoover Cora Wheeler Doris Messinger Phyllis Phinney Ruth Hickox Clarence George B. Durham Della Phyllis Kuehny Dinwiddie Robert Parker Hubert Stem Loren Homewood

"The fine times which we have at our regular monthly social meetings every Sunday night are responsible for a bunch of new members," Morris declared.

HEALTH CLINIC TO BE HELD AT HARBOR

NEWPORT BEACH, Aug. 21.—The parents of all children under six years of age are urged to bring their youngsters to the health center of East Newport, which is being sponsored by the Ebell club of Newport Beach.

A meeting will be conducted in the library building in East Newport on Friday morning, August 22, at 10:30 o'clock. The meetings are to be held on the fourth Friday of each month hereafter, and all parents are urged to attend.

FIREMEN FETED BY CAFE OWNER

LAGUNA BEACH, Aug. 21.—A number of young men motored to San Juan Capistrano on Monday night, where they were guests at dinner at the San Juan Inn. The dinner was given by Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Hunter and was in appreciation for the wonderful cooperation of the Volunteer Fire Department of Laguna Beach displayed on the morning when the Raven cafe burned to the ground. The boys present worked fast to salvage most of the furniture and linen of the Raven and kept the fire from spreading to the adjoining buildings.

J. L. Hunter and J. N. Isch donated $150 to the Firemen's fund. This, together with a donation of $50 from the Ku Klux Klan of Laguna Beach, received about a week ago, has swelled the fund and has awakened new enthusiasm. Plans were discussed as to systematic training of the volunteer firemen so that they can all refill and operate the chemical tanks, and in fact be trained to meet any emergency.

A lovely dinner was served and much enthusiasm was evidenced by the guests. Those present were: A. B. Derkum, Joe W. Skidmore, A. B. Marshall, Claude Rice, Fred Kuban, Joe Kuban, Christopher Valenti, Allen Phelps, Joseph Harmon, Joe Prather, Leo Wilson, Earl Cutter, Foster Wilson, George Ritchey, Leo Enders, Ed Seeman, Marvin Thompson, Walter Joyce and Maurice Isch.

LICENSE FIGHT AT ORANGE IS UNSETTLED

City Trustees Vote to Lay Matter Over to September Meeting

ORANGE, Aug. 21.—The fight being waged by the Merchants and Manufacturers' association to secure a flat rate business license ordinance, displacing the existing sliding scale, has been postponed to a meeting to be held at a date to be determined by the city council, which considered the merchant plan, having continued decision in the matter until the next regular meeting on September 2.

"The license proposition is an intricate one, requiring considerable time for evolving a new plan," the council informed the merchant committee, indicating that it would take no hasty steps until certain that the new plan would meet with the favor of the majority of the merchants.

The committee, which was appointed at a recent meeting of the merchants' organization, was headed by Homer Larkin, who replaced F. L. Moore at its head, when the latter was unable to appear before the council.

The sliding tax scale was attacked on the grounds that the larger merchant was forced to pay a heavier tax in proportion to his margin of profit than the smaller; that it was discriminating against large business which, the committee declared, aids to a great extent in developing a trading center; that if certain businesses are included under this scale all others should be similarly classified; and that it was particularly objectionable owing to the "yellow card" system which requires that every merchant make a sworn statement of his gross annual receipts, thus permitting outsiders to gain knowledge of the amount of business being done by the local merchant who would be jeopardized if a new competitor entered the local field. The committee urged passage of an ordinance providing a six dollar flat rate per quarter, payable annually in advance. The ordinance, as suggested, would do away with all classifications, licensing all merchants alike regardless of the volume of business done.

This plan seems the only equitable way to solve the problem," said Larkin, acting chairman of the committee, "unless this plan is adopted, or some other equitable method is evolved, the existing ordinance should be modified to include all merchants under the sliding scale, instead of discriminating against ten or fifteen large ones."

Brief Brea News

BRPA, Aug. 21.—The Intermediate Christian Endeavor society of the Christian church motored to Huntington Beach Tuesday evening and spent a very enjoyable time in the plunge. After a good swim the party enjoyed a wicker bake on the sand. Those who enjoyed the party were Misses Evelyn Wallentin, Agnes and Mildred Chandler, Ruby Saries, Alice Coe, Helen Heartfield, Ala Ford, Evelyn Harvey, Dorothy Schweitzer, Dorothy Falconer, Ombare and Ruby Sexton, Bessie Murphy, Annabelle Sammons, Inez Morrison, Messrs. Gilbert and Robert Kuenzli, Clayton Sullivan, Homer Bailey, Merle Shride, George Will and Don Harvey. Chaperones were Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Kiger, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Schweitzer, Mrs. Jess Gill, Mrs. Charles Harvey and Mrs. C. E. Reid.

A number of Brea and Olinda people patronized the lawn social given by the Guild of the Congregational church at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Williams on the West Coast lease Monday evening. The evening was spent in enjoying conversation. During the evening Miss Caroline Moore favored the crowd with several clever readings. Sherbet, home made cake, and punch were served to a large crowd and a large sum was taken in by the ladies.

Mrs. C. R. Merrifield and children Walker, Laura and Earl, motored to Long Beach Tuesday. Miss Laura will remain for several days with Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Reynolds. Miss Mae Rhone, and Gladys Paschel, and Messrs. C. D. Friesen and Roy Hardin, and Mrs. A. B. Bowie enjoyed a swim at Huntington Beach Tuesday evening.

Miss Betty Vinson left Wednesday to spend several days with Mr. and Mrs. Dallas Reynolds and family of Montebello.

Mrs. Severie Parker left Thursday for her home in Iowa over the Santa Fe. Mrs. Parker has been visiting her cousin Mrs. A. J. Severson for several months and has made many friends during her visit here.

CONCERT TICKETS SELL. FULLERTON, Aug. 21.—Tickets for the band concert and street dance to be staged here tomorrow night to raise funds for a new band stand in the city park, are commanding a ready sale and are expected to be a large turnout for the affair. The city band is sponsoring the carnival which will be held on Ford avenue between Whiting and Wilshire avenues. A particularly fine program of instrumental numbers has been prepared for the concert which will start at 7:30 o'clock.

A "never-stop" railway has been built at the British Empire Exhibition.

Council To Pay One Fifth of Cost Of Street Lights

FULLERTON, Aug. 21.—Although not legally obligated to do so, the city council has decided to pay one-fifth of the cost of installing ornamental lights in a new district in the west end embracing sections of West Amerigo, West Wilshire, North Drake and North Richmond.

The action in favor of the property owners was taken after a petition bearing 112 signatures had been presented declaring that the council should show "fair and equal" distribution "if it made them pay the full share of the improvement when other sections had been assisted out of general city revenue."

The council decided to pay, relieving that a matter of civic honor was involved. The owners declared they were unaware of the change of policy that was to be made and that they had been specifically told that they would only have to put four-fifths of the amount of the work.

City officials stated that the notice of intention had plainly designated the changed aspect of affairs.

PERSONAL NOTES OF LAGUNA BEACH

LAGUNA BEACH, Aug. 21.—The Pacific View Grocery store was recently purchased by Ralph Martin and Mr. Eastman of Riverside, who store was formerly owned by Harland Durand. Durand is erecting an office and will handle real estate and rentals.

CITY TAX RATE AT ORANGE IS UNCHANGED

$1.65 Per $100 Valuation Is Decided Upon By Trustees

ORANGE, Aug. 21.—The city tax rate will be the same this year, as last year, remaining at $1.65 per each $100 of assessed valuation.

That was disclosed today by City Clerk Cal D. Lester following the city council meeting when it was tentatively decided to fix the rate at that figure.

"Although it was hoped that the rate could be lowered this year, the fact that the city's bonded indebtedness increased $230,000 during the past year made this a physical impossibility," said Lester in announcing development of the rate, which will be definitely fixed the first Monday in September.

The city, Lester pointed out, increased its bonded indebtedness through two bond issues—one totaling $150,000 for the inter-city water sewer, the other $40,000 for the enlargement program at the water works.

These two issues, which were of vital importance to the city, governing as they did to a large extent the community's future growth, however, would not have made any difference in the tax rate, which, at the utmost could not have been reduced more than five cents on each $100 of assessed valuation, it was declared.

The fact that the city expanded its incorporated area by annexing a 100 acre strip on Main street, involving municipal improvements including streets and water system, also was a contributing factor in keeping the tax rate at last year's figure. The city clerk indicated that the annexed territory has not been incorporated within the city long enough to call for a tax levy in that district this year.

Under the proposed rate, the city will not receive an additional $103,950, while an additional $10,000 is expected to be raised through street assessments, including paving and sewer improvements.

According to figures compiled by City Assessor Will N. Parsons, the total assessed valuation of non-operative property in the city will reach $6,305,479 as compared with $5,385,400 last year, which represents a gain of approximately $920,000 in property values during the year.

Last year, the same tax rate raised $99,269.25, while this year it will account for almost an additional $8,000 in revenue.

However, with the city council, while sitting as a board of equalization, allowing about $5,000 in claims, the possible revenue is expected to be reduced several thousand dollars by the time that the official figures on assessed valuations are derived for taxation purposes.

Numbering approximately 100, members of the Woman's Ball-Fullerton Assembly club today were preparing for an active campaign in the interest of the candidacy of Dr. C. D. Ball for return to the state legislature as the assembly representative from Orange county.

Plans for checking voters at precincts and for getting women voters to the polls Tuesday were discussed at a meeting of a number of members held last night at the office of Mrs. R. A. Cushman. SWIMMERS TO RACE AROUND H. B. PER HUNTINGTON BEACH, Aug. 21.—Two thrilling swimming races around the end of the pier here are expected to attract a large crowd of people to the city Saturday. The races are scheduled as a part of the weekly program being given under the auspices of the chamber of commerce here. One of the races will be for men and the other for women. The races will be held under the sanction of the Amateur Athletic union and are open to all amateur swimmers. Several noted stars have been secured to add zest and attraction to the swim.

A half mile course has been laid out around the end of the municipal pier here. Spectators will be offered excellent space from which to view the races from the pier. A complete list of entrants was not available to date, but it was expected that about fifteen swimmers would be entered in the ocean race for men and about ten in the women's race.

Miss Viola Hartman, Los Angeles Athletic club swimming star, will be one of the contestants. Miss Hartman is the holder of the Junior National 220 yards, Pacific coast 440 and 880 yards, Southern California 220 and 440 yards swimming championships and is also the Pacific coast spring board diving champion. She was the winner of the Silver Gate swim at San Diego recently, covering the distance of 570 yards in two minutes less than the previous record.

Other noted swimmers who will be in the race against Miss Hartman will be Kay Davis of the Silver Gate Swimming club, Mary Wheeler, of the L. A. A. C., Dottie Blewett, of the Holbrook club, and Thelma Finn of the club plunge. Several of these girls have been developed during the past few months and are expected to bring the race to a close finish.

YACHT CLUB FILES PAPERS. The Dana Point Yacht and Country club, situated in Orange county but having its headquarters at Long Beach, today filed a copy of its articles of incorporation with the county clerk. The club's directorate consists of Harvey M. Lochridge, Olin J. Cope, Theodore Jacobs and John Davidson, all of Long Beach, and William J. McCormack, of Wilmington.

BOY'S CYCLE DAMAGED. J. E. Hunt of 817 South Parton street today told police officials that yesterday he backed his automobile into a boy who was riding a bicycle at Fourth and Broadway. The boy, whose name was not learned, was unhurt, although the bicycle was damaged.

Real Estate Chief To Visit at Beach Saturday

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Aug. 21.—"I am taking a day off to attend your week-end celebration, Saturday, August 23."

Such was the contents of a letter received here today by E. A. Suter, president of the local realty board, from Edwin T. Kelsier, commissioner of the State Real Estate department, to whom one of one hundred letters inviting people over Southern California to attend the celebrations were mailed, by the local realty board.

"I would probably not have visited your town and week-end had it not been for your invitation," he stated. Several other answers to the invitations have been received by Suter, accepting them and declaring the persons intention of bringing the family and friends.

Police Puzzled as Deserted Car Yields 5 Pints

An abandoned roadster, once the carrier of five pints of whiskey, today puzzled Santa Ana officers. The automobile was found wrecked on South Main street where it was abandoned Tuesday night. There was no registration certificate to indicate the owner of the damaged automobile. The front right wheel had protruded through a fence near the edge of the street, a short distance south of the city limits.

The bottles and an empty five-gallon can that smelled strongly of liquor were found in the car, police said.

WIFE AVERS MATE FAILS TO PROVIDE

Mrs. Laura Rosemond today filed a divorce suit in the superior court here against Henry A. G. Rosemond, charging him with failure to provide. Attorney Adolph B. Rosefield of Long Beach represented Mrs. Rosemond.

The Rosemonds were married in San Bernardino county, March 27, 1912, and separated October 10, 1922.

Youths' Romance Ends as Lad Sent 2000 Miles Away

To be kept nearly 2000 miles apart is the fate meted out to juvenile authorities here to Newton Kerley, 17, and his 15-year-old sweetheart whose romance was sweeter two weeks ago when a constable at Yuma, Ariz., found the pair asleep in a boxcar while trying to "beat their way" from Santa Ana to the Texas farm of Kerley's parents where, the couple said, they intended to live until they were old enough to be married.

Today the girl was to be placed in the custody of her parents in Santa Ana. Her young sweetheart will be sent to his father's farm in Texas, according to R. R. Miller, Orange county probation officer. The statutory charges against the youth have been dismissed, and the girl has not been adjudged a delinquent, Miller stated.

Thus will the shattered romance stand, at least until the sweethearts have reached the legal age.

Mr. Buyer or Seller

PERHAPS the importance of the Classified Advertisement has never been brought forcibly to your attention. The work of this page, although very subtle, is none the less effective. There is no market in the world that brings so many buyers and sellers into personal contact as the Want Ad page of a daily newspaper.

False Economy

It is false economy to word your message so briefly that it fails to "put over" the sales message. This does not mean that your talk should be lengthy, but it does mean that you should use care and be doubly cautious that your want ad tells the story in such a way that it will be read carefully by the person who is interested in the article you wish to buy or sell.

"Bargain" doesn't mean much to the average person—constant use of the word has ruined its power. If you are selling real estate and state in your ad the fact that you have a "large" lot for sale, it is more than possible that your audience will pass it up. On the other hand, if you word your ad somewhat as follows: "Lot for sale, 200x300 feet; located in the southwest section of the city; $150"—you immediately state a concrete fact and an interesting one to the man who desires to purchase a lot.

WALLACE BACKS T. B. TALBERT CANDIDACY

Answering a letter sent to members of the Republican County Central committee by George Varum, W. P. Webb Jr., both of Anaheim, J. E. Rymer, Brea, the Rev. G. A. Francis, Orange, and Karl R. Goetz, Santa Ana, a letter was made public today by Lew H. Wallace, Newport Beach.

This letter from Wallace not only advocates the election of T. B. Talbert as state senator because "of the many faithful years he has given us" but asserts that under the primary law no group has the right to make agreements for the voters, and therefore Talbert had a perfect right under the law to become a candidate, with no breach of faith being involved.

The Varum letter asked a number of questions concerning the state senatorship. Lew Wallace's reply follows:

The first paragraph of your letter is erroneous. You state that "by agreement made and scrupulously observed for the past 28 years."

I have been actively associated with the Republican party ever since settling in Orange County eighteen years ago. During all of that time there has never been any agreement either made or understood to have been made, but through a matter of courtesy and because neither county had any matter of interest to itself that would probably not be of interest to the other, we have nominated a senator from each county alternately.

"In 1908 at the time Miguel Estudillo was nominated and this was prior to the primary law, I was a delegate to the convention which met at Riverside and at that time W. W. Wilson of Orange county would have been the nominee had it not been for the vote of three Republicans from Orange county who were absolutely controlled by Walter Parker, the Southern Pacific boss, who could not control Wilson and could control Estudillo. At that time the question did not arise as to a gentleman's agreement or any agreement and as stated before it has simply been a matter of courtesy."

"As the time has gone along the population of Orange county has increased to a much larger percentage than has the population of Riverside county and had an agreement actually been entered into at some previous time, there is no possible agreement that could have been binding in any sense of the word on the voters of today."

"I was not one of the group that urged Tom Talbert to run, nor was I particularly in favor of Tom's running because I believe his value to us as a supervisor is much greater than his value to us as possibly be as state senator, inasmuch as he chose to run for office, however, I am unqualifiedly for him."

"In your fourth paragraph you have referred to a group assuming the privilege of determining for the Republican party. You have apparently forgotten that the primary law in itself precludes any group stating who shall or who shall not run for office. Either you or I or Tom Talbert or anybody else under the law is privileged to enter his candidacy and you apparently are trying to fall back on the old convention system as to how a question of this kind should be decided."

"I am answering your communication immediately upon the receipt thereof and without even conferring with another member of our party and you are at liberty either to publish this letter or not as you see fit."

"In closing, I wish to state that inasmuch as Tom Talbert has filed his nomination papers that I hope that he receives the Republican nomination for state senator. In my opinion he is entitled to receive from Orange county its unanimous support in recognition of the many faithful years of service he has given to us."

"Yours very truly,
LEW H. WALLACE."

INDUSTRY SITE SECTION PAVE WORK URGED

Since it has been announced that County Supervisor S. H. Finley has expressed his willingness to take from the automobile tax funds allotted his district an amount sufficient to add a depth of two inches to the proposed paving of St. Gertrude place and St. Andrews place from Main street to the Southern Pacific tracks, property owners who are circulating paving petitions are said to be meeting with much success in obtaining signatures.

It was disclosed today that approximately twenty property owners in McFadden tract No. 4, who recently signed a protest against the paving, reconsidered their action and since have signed the document requesting the county supervisors to proceed with the paving of the two streets.

According to the plans specified in the petition, a strip of concrete paving twenty feet wide is asked for the two thoroughfares which serve Chanticleer Manor, McFadden No. 4, Lloyd Park and the Central Manufacturing district. The concrete is to be nine inches thick at the edges and six inches at the center, this depth being favored so that the pavement will withstand the traffic of heavy trucks from the industrial district.

Smoke in Beauty Shop Stirs Widow

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 20.—

"Smoke shop or beauty shop?" That is the question that is arousing a smoking controversy in Berkeley over the conduct of a new beauty saloon just opened at 2400 Telegraph avenue, Berkeley, by Mrs. E. McKee. It is said to be patronized by co-eds who enjoy their cigarettes in the lounging room attached to the shop.

Mrs. Henry Glass, widow of the late Admiral Glass, was horrified at this state of affairs and threatened to appeal to Chief of Police Vollmer of Berkeley to close the shop for the "protection of girl students." Mrs. McKee visited the chief to determine her legal rights and the chief adopted a attitude of strict neutrality.

Miss Lucy Stebbins, dean of women, said she had heard nothing of the controversy as yet and that co-eds made their own regulations as to smoking.

CANNERY VISIT IS ENJOYED BY CLUB

Twenty-five members of the Santa Ana Kiwanis club today had pledged themselves to be present at Elks' club, Anaheim, Tuesday at 8 p. m., to attend an address on reforestation to be given by former Governor George Pardee under the auspices of the Anaheim Kiwanis club.

Pledges were made following the meeting of the local club held yesterday at noon at Taylor's cannery on East Fourth street.

For the meeting yesterday, fifty of Santa Ana's prominent business men threw off their conventional restraint and climbed into a large truck and tractor furnished by Taylor's for the trip to the cannery. While the men sang club songs, the truck was driven down some of the principal business streets, the merchants getting a "real kick" out of the incident.

Seated at tables on the lawn and under a temporary canopy, the members ate cold lunches prepared by Ketter's and served in individual boxes.

Following the usual program of "joshing" and eating, the Kiwanians were entertained by vocal solos by Robert Bradford and by dancing numbers by Marguerite his usual fine voice, Bradford offered "The Ghost of Carmen" from the opera Carmen; "The Star" (Roberts) and "At Dawn" (Cadman).

Graceful in execution of their dances, Miss Taylor and Miss Wurster offered novelty for a Kiwanis program. Miss Taylor presented the "Butterfly Dance" and "The Spirit of Kiwanis." Miss Wurster offered for approval of the club members the "Barefoot Dance."

After dinner the guests inspected the large cannery and were treated to watermelon—all they could eat.

Fred Taylor, owner of the enterprise, is a member of the club.

WURSTER'S STATEMENT IS MISINTERPRETED

Misinterpretation of a portion of the wording of the statement issued by District Attorney A. P. Nelson yesterday in which he gave a list of candidates that he says are backed by the Ku Klux Klan was pointed out today.

Nelson's statement did not specifically declare that the candidates that he lists as being backed by the Klan are members of the Klan. He says that he said that the candidates named by him are backed by the Klan, and he reiterates that he is in a position to substantiate that statement.

Nelson's statement today is the most talked of incident of the campaign, at least since the incident in which Dr. C. D. Ball, candidate for the assembly, crossed swords with Governor Richardson, who had attacked Ball's candidacy.

ACTORS APPEAR ON JURY IN YOST PHOTOPLAY

For "The Woman on the Jury," now showing at the Yost theater, the star, Sylvia Breamer, and Director Hoyt had the unheard-of audacity to use actors for the jurors and selected them according to ability, rather than by whiskers.

Such a thing had never been done before and the original screen jury is even now still impelled outside First National studios and the foreman has been instructed to return a verdict of profound annoyance.

Frank Mayo, Ford Sterling, Jean Hersholt, Arthur Lubin, Fred Warren, Leo White, Stanton Heck, J. Edwards Davis, Kewpie King, Arthur Stuart Hull, Arthur Reehms and Sylvia Breamer were the jurors.

Because pantomime is essential to the terrific juryroom scene, Hoyt drew the balance of his talent from varied fields. Lew Cody, Hobart Bosworth, Roy Stewart, Bessie Love, Mary Carr and Henry B. Walthall are the other players.

"NOT ONE TO SPARE" AT WEST END TONIGHT

Renard Hoffman, contemplating the making of a photoplay, quietly gathered up every film convention he could find. Then he gathered up all of the conventional plots. This done, he threw 'em all into the waste basket. Sure that they were thus disposed of, he proceeded to make his picture. The results is something which even Mr. Hoffman scarcely hoped to attain.

"Not One to Spare," which opens at the West End theater tonight, is a photoplay which unassumingly depicts, in a manner artistically and dramatically excellent, a little sequence from rural life. It is done in much the same way that Corot might have smeared his brush across a stretch of canvas. And with much the same splendor of simplicity.

Also, the picture is something of an innovation. Hoffman has dispensed with the usual handsome hero and the usual seductive heroine. Nor has he anything which, in the ordinary use of the term, resembles a plot. Instead, Hoffman has chosen to make his drama of the element of which drama is made—internal conflict.

CLAIRE WINDSOR PICTURE ENDS RUN TONIGHT

"Nellie, the Beautiful Cloak Model," the famous Owen Davis melodrama which was so popular a few years ago on the stage and which has been reproduced on the seven screens at Walker's theater here tonight.

The picture is remarkable from every standpoint. A cast composed of the biggest names of the screen interpret the various roles. Claire Windsor is delightful as "Nellie." She has never appeared more beautiful than when arrayed in the gorgeous creations which she wears in this picture. Lew Cody, Mae Busch, Hobart Bosworth, Raymond Griffith and Edmund Lowe do exceptional work. Lilyan Tashman, ex-Follies beauty, makes her screen debut in this picture and shows great promise.

THE NERVOUS WRECK

by E. J. Rath ©1924 by NEA Service, Inc.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

The "Nervous Wreck," an eccentric young easterner, is driving Sally Morgan from her father's ranch to the station when they run out of gasoline. At the point of a gun the wreck takes five gallons from a passing car.

Later Charlie McSweeney, foreman of a ranch along the way, hides the wreck's car and forces Sally to act as cook. Then they discover that Mr. Underwood, the owner of the ranch, was in the car which they held up. Sheriff Bob Wells, who is Sally's fiance, is unwittingly searching the countryside for the "bandits" who held up Underwood's car.

Excellent advice; but Underwood himself had omitted to follow it, and he actually had his hands on the bandit car.

"Get a lantern," he said. "Let's go down and have a look at it." Chester fetched a lantern from the kitchen, and they went down to the tool shed. Underwood examined the mysterious flivver with more attention than he had ever given to his own imported car. He studied the license plate with a searching eye, trying to make himself believe that it awakened recollection. He could not be sure, but the more he looked at it the more familiar it seemed to be. Unconsciously he was creating a memory of it, which might, after all, serve him just as well.

The missing wheel baffled him. He could not invent a reason for it. Had there been a smash-up which crumpled a wheel, there would almost certainly be other marks on the car. But all it showed were a few ordinary dents and a myriad of scratches, common to hundreds of thousands of other flivvers all over the world. Standing there on three wheels, with a soap box serving as a crutch in place of the fourth, the dusty thing possessed on uncanny faculty of annoying him. He was aware of a feeling of resentment toward it. He had hated flivvers always; the people who drove them, as he saw them, never had any road manners. It was useless to pass them in the highway and leave because sputtering in your wake another there was always another one ahead. Now it seemed that his diffused hatred came to a focus on one solitary specimen out of all the millions.

He led the way back to the house, swinging the lantern and trying to make something out of Chester's discovery. When they entered the living room he did the obvious thing.

"Get McSweeney," he said. "And let me do the talking." Chester found the foreman in the bunk house, getting ready to pull off his boots. Charlie was a believer in going early to bed when there was nothing else to do. He went up to the ranch house, wondering what the boss wanted.

Mr. Underwood always tried to make it a practice of getting immediately to the point, particularly with subordinates.

"Who owns the car that stands in the tool shed?" he asked.

"What car?" asked Charlie.

Then and there he passed a Rubicon, and realized it. Probably he had passed it foolishly, too. But the question had taken him by surprise, and his own question in return had snapped itself out auto-matically. That was the worst of speaking without due reflection.

Why hadn't he said that the car belonged to Mr. and Mrs. Henry Williams and let the truth have its way?

"There's a car down there, a three-wheeled flivver," said Underwood. "Who does it belong to?"

"A three-wheeled flivver?" repeated Charlie. "I reckon that's a new kind. It ain't any wonder they keep takin' chunks off the price."

Mr. Underwood stared at his foreman.

"Mean to say you didn't know there was a flivver in the tool shed?" he demanded.

"First I ever heard of it," said Charlie promptly.

Having inadvertently set a course for himself he proposed to sail it. He had a superstition about turning back. And what was all the fuss about anyhow?

"Well, we found one there. My son and I have been taking a look at it. Do you know what we think?"

"Um! No, I can't say as I do, Mr. Underwood."

Charlie was becoming cautious and curious. He scratched his chin and resolved to be deliberate.

"We think it's the same car that was used by the gang that held us up."

"Well, I'll be dog-goned! And standin' down there in the tool shed? Why, I'll just be damned, that's all!"

"And you mean to say you don't know anything about it?"

"But I'm goin' to have a look."

He seized the lantern and hastened out of the room before Mr. Underwood could utter another question. Down near the shed he paused for thought. There was no need to go and look at the Wreck's flivver; he knew all about it. What he wanted was a little time.

Twice within the space of a minute he had been surprised, and he proposed to get himself in order before they did it again. It had never occurred to him that any member of the Underwood family would take the trouble to discover the flivver. That was the first surprise. It was entirely unnecessary, too; he reflected; he might as well have left the thing in the open. Nobody could use it, anyhow. But the other surprise—the suspicion that this was the flivver!

"The sons of guns!" he muttered. "The sons of guns! Stickin' up the boss and then buttin' into his own ranch and askin' for breakfast! I ain't sayin' they did! I ain't convinced. I'm always in favor of preservin' a judicial mind and bein' fair to all concerned. But when you come to think of it—h'm! It's always been puzzlin' me to figure him. Accordin' to his wife he's a kind of invalid. But accordin' to Mort, and things which I've seen with my own eyes, he's a rampagin' rhinoceros. I wouldn't pick him to be in the stick-up business, and yet I wouldn't say he don't possess qualifications. The main thing is, he's got all the required nerve. The son of a gun!"

Charlie's good tweaking his ear and frowning at the tool shed.

"Admittin' the indictment—which I ain't necessarily, but admittin' it for the sake of argument—what am I goin' to do? I said I didn't know there was any flivver here. If I go back and say I did, I'm a liar. There ain't any thing I hate to be accused of worse than that. Besides, if I admit it, I know all about it, and it turns out that Henry lives up to what may be justly expected, then I'm makin' myself a sort of accessory after the fact. Which ain't true and is damagin' to my reputation. I may be rough and untutored, but I ain't any Henry Williams—the four-eyed son of a gun!"

He picked up the lantern, turned toward the ranch house and paused again.

"Furthermore, here I've been tellin' the boss how I got him a prize cook from out east, along with her obligin' husband. He's after all, serve just as well.

He could not invent a reason for it. Had there been a smash-up which crumpled a wheel, there would almost certainly be other marks on the car. New Country Club Links Open Sept. 1

FIRST 9 HOLES ALMOST READY FOR PLAYERS

President's Order Closes Course Until Day Set; Non-Members Barred

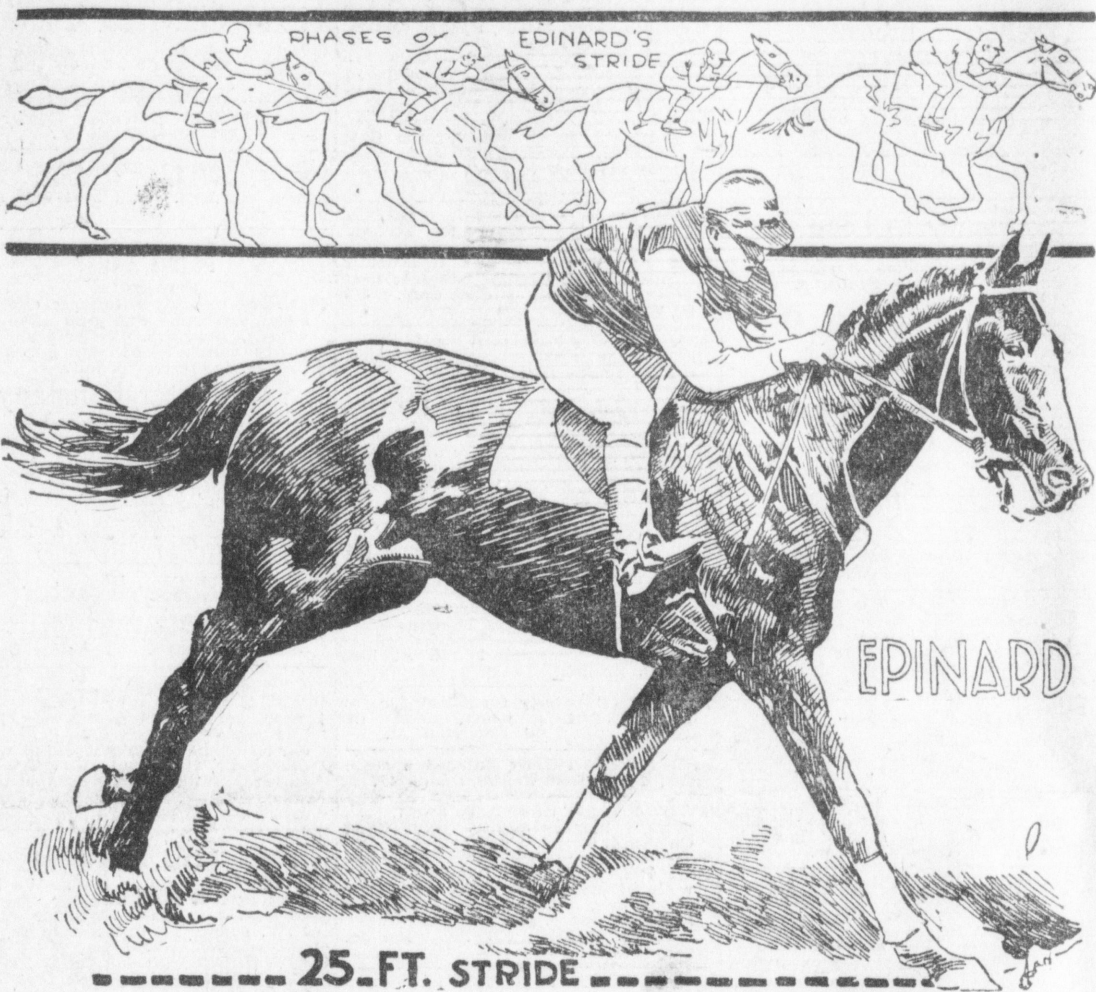

The first nine holes of the new Santa Ana Country club's golf course, located just off the Newport Beach boulevard and about four miles from the heart of this city will be formally opened Monday, September 1, C. G. Twist, president, officially announced today.

The links, Twist added, will be available only to members of the club. Play on the beautiful grass fairways and greens will be prohibited until opening day, he said. "The first nine is in splendid condition," Twist said. "For months our workmen have been busy on this course which we believe will rank with the most unique and most beautiful links in the Southland. The turf now is strong and healthy but we urge those persons who have been 'testing' the course to refrain from playing until September."

Links Are 'Sporty'
The course has been constructed for the player of average ability, not for the professional or super-expert. The links, however, are "sporty" and the man who shoots par or close to that mark will be forced to his utmost. There are numerous natural hazards on the first nine, the most important of which is an alkali flat that is to be used on six different holes of the eighteen. On some of the holes the player will be forced to cross this flat. On others the hazard will be a boundary of the fairway. The total yardage of the first nine is 3065 yards. Par is 37. Hole One Near Road Hole 1 is located near the boulevard and south of where a handsome and most modern clubhouse will be constructed for members. No. 1 is a "getaway" hole and will offer little trouble to the player, professional or "dub."

A summary of the first nine follows:

EPINARD'S STRIDE MEASURES 25 FEET

Ed Brown, Brooklyn outfielder, doubled in the eleventh and scored when Loftus' roller bounced off Grimm's chest, the Pirates losing their third straight game 3 to 2.

Flagstead got four hits, scored one run and drove in two, giving the Red Sox a 5 to 4 victory over the Indians.

Hole	Yardage	Par
1	320	4
2	470	5
3	330	4
4	360	4
5	185	3
6	420	5
7	390	4
8	105	3
9	475	5
Totals	3065	37

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y., Aug. 21.—One reason why American turfmen are beginning to fear Epinard, the visiting turf champion of France, is that he has the longest stride of any known thoroughbred.

Actual measurements have shown that Epinard's stride is a fraction more than 25 feet. No other great runner known to the turf can show a stride to match this.

Epinard's present stride is better even than Man o' War's when the great American horse was running at the top of his brilliant form. Horsemen say that Man o' War's maximum stride was 24 feet 9 inches. These were his figures when he broke all time records in winning the Lawrence Realization stakes several years ago.

Epinard is one of the longest horses for his height ever to be seen in action in this country. In this respect he is the freak of the turf.

Nevertheless Epinard is capable of great speed and his abnormally long strides enable him to cover plenty of ground with each bound.

Although Frank Besser twice splintered the pins for more than 200, the handicap of forty-five tendered Judd and Crowder was too much for him to overcome in last night's Doubles league series at the A. and B. alleys.

As a result Judd and Crowder garnered four points from Besser and Clyde Walker and moved into a tie for first place in the circuit. Mull and Van Dam also suffered by the severe handicap of forty-five pins awarded Smith and Keeler and dropped three out of four points to the latter combination.

The Cards took a double header from the Phils 3 to 1 and 13 to 10.

SPARR BACK IN RING AT H. B. TOMORROW

Popular Lightweight Gets Real Test In Main Event Go With Joe Layman

Tomorrow's Card
Main Event—Jack Sparr vs. Joe Layman, 138 pounds.
Semi-final—Frank Ward vs. Kid Williams, 175 pounds.
Preliminaries—Eddie Benson vs. Battling Powell, 138 pounds; Young Anderson vs. Babe Orton, 126 pounds; Big Chief vs. Allen Harlan, 140 pounds; Joe Hutson vs. K. O. Goldsmith, 165 pounds.

BY RINGSIDER
Whether Jack Sparr still has his celerity of foot and heaviness of arm will be demonstrated at Kid Mexico's Huntington Beach arena tomorrow night when the good-looking Santa Fe Springs lightweight meets, in the main event, Joe Layman, the hardest hitting boy his size in Southern California. A year ago Sparr was virtually invincible in his division. He built up an enviable record of wins, many over the knockout route. Joe got so fast and so clever that none of the legitimate lighties would go on with him. So, in order to keep on with his work, the blond haired whirlwind was forced to give weight.

Jack still "takes" most of them irrespective of avoidpools. He doesn't win by knockouts much any more but few of them can lay a glove on him. Layman is good, good enough to care any of the four-rounders. His advertised punching ability didn't frighten Sparr who gladly signed for the bout. Jack may have gone back but he'll have to have slipped plenty not to provide his old-time thrills.

Frank Ward and Kid Williams, a pair of husky light heavies, are scheduled to collide in the semi-final. Eddie Benson and Battling Powell, head the list of preliminaries.

Ritchie Fails In Come Back Tryout

OAKLAND, Aug. 21.—Willie Ritchie isn't coming back. The former lightweight champion clearly showed that Father Time has marked him for a has been for the rest of his days so far as the ring is concerned, when he lost a four-round decision to Joe Simonich of Butte, Montana, here last night.

The WELL DRESSED MAN
By BEAUNASH
Correct Clothes To Meet The Obligation Of Every Occasion

TWO OF A KIND
Are we monest-to-goodness sportsmen or merely jackdaws strutting about in peacocks' feathers? An illustration forerunner—'not always angry when he strikes, but most chastising those whom he most likes'—declares that even the American, who follows no sport, dresses as though he were engaged in one. He saw more golf clothes off the links than on, and he saw more polo coats and cricket flannels and punting blazers upon men who frankly owned that they couldn't tell a mallet from a mallet duck or a wicket from a wicker chair.

Isn't there just enough truth in this friendly flagellation to leave a bit of a sting? Are we, perhaps, overdoing the sporting notion in our mode of dress by mixing field with function and go-to-business with go-golfing? Sporting clothes should be held strictly to their place and purpose. The same things applies to town dress. The two are as far apart as Paris and Peru and can never meet. Do not wear golf outfits except on the links or club grounds or coming or going. Never wear them to business. It is more trouble to change, but you have the consciousness that you are living up to the code of correct dress, which not merely expects its practitioners to know what to wear, but also when and where to wear it.

Pullover Scotch wool sweaters and golf stockings in matched sets are a new familiar fashion, which is illustrated here. The pattern is the smart diamond design in which diagonal lines alternate with a bold X effect in contrasting colors, both forming a very prepossessing motif. This, to be sure, is only one of the multiplicity of styles that are procurable in harmonizing sets of sweaters and stockings.

Answering the call for color which is heard throughout the whole theme of men's dress, the smart shades in sweaters and stockings are much lighter and brighter—pale blues, tans and yellows which not so long ago, would have been deemed effeminate. Now, they are accepted as a matter of course. For a pleasant change-off, you are well advised to own several of these matched sets, as on account of the prominent patterns now in vogue, to wear the same thing renders a man overly conspicuous.

RICKARD MAY STAGE TUNNEY-TOM SCRAP

Famous Promoter Confers With Gibbons Manager Relative to Bout

BY HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—Gene Tunney, American lightweight champion, and Tom Gibbons, St. Paul, may be matched to meet here in one of the closing bouts of the outdoor season today.

Tex Rickard is after the match and he was negotiating today with Billy Gibson and Eddie Kane, managers of the principals. Gibson and Kane both are willing to sign and terms probably can be adjusted to their satisfaction. Several offers have been made for the match by mid-western promoters but they were turned down as they could not offer terms to compete with the New York promoters who want the bout.

Rickard wanted to hold the match over until next summer as the September calendar is jammed with big bouts and he would rather not gamble on October weather.

Wireless has developed the newspapers on trans-oceanic liners to a high degree of completeness.

EVENING SALUTATION
"So I think, God hides some souls away, Sweetly to surprise us the last day."

SAMPLE'S INSINUATION

In his address here Tuesday evening, E. P. Sample, a candidate for the Republican nomination for congressman, reiterates his insinuations that Congressman Phil D. Swing, his opponent, is not acceptable to the Coolidge administration. He seems to think that, by constantly repeating the statement, he can make the voters believe it, despite the fact that positive proof to the contrary has been produced in this campaign.

Here is some of the proof:
First, a friendly letter from C. B. Slomp, secretary of President Coolidge, to Congressman Swing, seeking information from Swing concerning political conditions.

Second, a telegram from the party's national campaign chairman inviting Swing to be present at the nomination acceptance gathering.

Third, a letter from Nicholas Longworth, Republican floor leader of the House of Representatives, saying Swing had given him assistance and co-operation in every measure involving basic Republican principles, and "wishing you (Swing) every success in the coming election."

Fourth, a letter from Congressman A. H. Vestal, Republican whip of the House of Representatives, in which Vestal said "you have been a real help to me as Republican whip," and "you have represented your district well and I bespeak for you a splendid victory in the coming election."

Fifth, a letter from C. C. Teague, president of the League of Coolidge Republican Clubs of Southern California, commending Swing's effective activity in behalf of tariffs on California products and commending him to the district.

Sixth, a letter from S. C. Evans, mayor of Riverside, urging Swing's re-election. Evans presided at the meeting at which the League of Coolidge Republican clubs was formed.

Seventh, L. A. West, who supported Coolidge in the primaries, is president of the Orange County Swing-For-Congress club.

Eighth, individually Swing has the support of the chairmen of four Republican county central committees, as shown by the following statement:

The undersigned unreservedly endorse Congressman Swing for re-election. Criticism of his party standing is unjustified. We have personally seen original letters from the White House, from administration leaders and high Republican party chiefs, which show conclusively that Mr. Swing's return to Congress would be welcomed by them. We urge his re-election so that he may complete the very important work for his district which he has so well begun.

C. L. McFARLAND,
Chairman, Republican County Central Committee, Riverside County.

EARL PAUL,
Chairman, Republican County Central Committee, San Bernardino County.

W. F. MENTON,
Chairman, Republican County Central Committee, Orange County.

ROSS T. HICKOX,
Chairman, Republican County Central Committee, Imperial County.

Ninth, in his platform issued upon his return from Washington Swing pledged himself to support President Coolidge and the entire Republican ticket, and, in congress, to support measures involving basic Republican principles.

So, Sample's endeavor to take possession of the supporters of President Coolidge is nothing less than an unfair political trick, and Mr. Sample, voters of Orange county don't like that kind of politics.

SAFE PLAYGROUNDS

Getting playground children to write a safe play code for themselves looks like a very useful way to work for their safety. That is what the Cleveland Safety Council is doing.

Hundreds of children from the many playgrounds of the community have sent in suggestions about ways to make play safe. A convention of councils from all the playgrounds will meet and select the 10 best suggestions for the playground safety code. Some typical suggestions were:

- "Don't fight, just scrap."
- "Don't hang on by the legs too long."
- "Don't blow an automobile horn for fun."
- "Don't hop on the ice wagon."
- "Don't throw stones, even if you don't intend to hit anyone."
- "Don't drink from the hose."
- "Don't throw nails on the ground."
- "Don't run between pegs when a horseshoe game is on."
- "Don't neglect scratches."

The few samples given show that the youngsters are thinking of pretty nearly everything. And regardless of what the skeptics may say, the accident toll among a lot of children who are thinking so thoroughly about safety is going to be lower than in other communities.

A gold-plated radio set is to be presented to the Prince of Wales while he is in this country. But isn't platinum the royal metal now?

PREHISTORIC BLOSSOMS

Dinosaurs and other weird beasts that inhabited parts of the earth so long ago that we only know about them because scientists have reconstructed their forms from the bits of bones which have been discovered are more or less familiar to the public.

Few people know anything about prehistoric flowers. Yet flowers that are supposed to have bloomed 90,000,000 years ago are being preserved and reconstructed at the Yale botanical laboratory. The fossils which have restored some prehistoric plants to the light of day are found in the Southern Black Hills in South Dakota. To the untrained observer they appear to be nothing but queer rocks. To the scientist and botanist they are marvelously interesting. Pollen and seeds, blossoms and leaves are disclosed with the aid of the microscope and carefully directed polishing. These cycads are the ancestors of most of our present-day flowers. It is for that reason that they are of such special interest to botanists and all persons interested in prehistoric life of any sort.

The Yale botanist who is doing this special work with the cycad collection says that the discovery of these strange flowers that bloomed millions of years ago has aided greatly in the study of the history of modern plants, a subject that had not before come within the range of scientific discussion.

In many ways mankind today knows more about the remote past than it does about the near future.

A FARMER'S OFFICE

In the 1924 home improvement contest for rural and small communities, conducted by the extension division of the Department of Agriculture, a house in Albermarle county, Virginia, won first place. In that model farm home one of the rooms was furnished as a farmer's office.

An office for a farmer is something new in domestic architecture, but its entrance upon the scene tells much of recent developments in farming. It indicates that the modern farmer does more than plow, plant and reap, and more than milking and general chores. In these days the prosperous farmer keeps books on his farm activities. He knows what his labor is worth and how much his crops cost him and how to rate the living he gets from his farm as well as the cash profit at the end of each year. He has magazines and scientific bulletins to read and he has some business correspondence to attend to.

The intelligent farmer never was the hayseed the comedians of cartoon and stage liked to pretend he was. Along with better farm machinery and up-to-date farming methods it is understandable that he is coming to need a convenient office in which to take stock of his affairs and carry on the strictly business side of his occupation.

Business Activity Ahead

Long Beach Press
Great enlivening of business this autumn is predicted—and predicted by a man who knows. He is not a narrow-gauge man who speaks with uncertain knowledge, or at random. He is one of the most noted bankers in the United States—Charles E. Mitchell, president of the National City Bank of New York. Predicting that there will be greater activity in business this fall, Mr. Mitchell added: "Bank clearings indicate this. There has been only one week this year when New York bank clearings were lower than last year, and throughout the country there have been only two weeks when clearings were lower than last year. Merchants have been liquidating their stocks without replenishing. Consequently they have a large amount of money on hand. This money will have to be reinvested in the fall. This will cause tremendous business activity. There has not been the business depression that people think."

These are encouraging words. They come from a source that is worthy of respect. They testify the optimistic feeling that has prevailed and is now prevailing among the people that prosperity, in large measure, is just ahead—that a good deal of it is already here.

The Fire Situation

Redlands Facts
The forest fire situation all over California is most menacing. Even right here in our own vicinity, where the blaze has been comparatively unimportant, it flares up again and again, after the men fighting it think they have control. And although the damage seems small, as a matter of fact, it is considerable. Some big fine trees, which require many years to grow, have been destroyed, orchards have been scorched, a barn burned, the tunnels of the water company injured, and the cover of the watershed destroyed. The first rains of the coming wet season will rush off the hill sides, carrying down the ashes, making a temporarily sad story. As a people, we must learn to be more careful of fire. This is a country with six months of rainless weather, and it is a constant menace.

Editorial Shorts

It is a favored saying with some disappointed politicians that "Republicans are ungrateful." That ought not to be said as to the candidacy of incumbent Phil D. Swing for congress, in this district. A man who has the remarkable record he has, who has stood for the fine and moral things, especially as exemplified by the closing of the Mexican border, ought not to be told by the electorate to give way to someone the interests which want an open border, and corporation control of water power prefer.—Redlands Facts.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M. D.
PYORRHEA AND A SLUGGISH CIRCULATION
A dentist and physician, discussing that widespread ailment pyorrhea, began to compare notes. The physician asked the dentist this pointed question: "Have you noticed that pyorrhea seems to be more common in our upper than in the poorer classes?"

The dentist agreed that such was the case. "Now, as to the care of the teeth, do the upper classes not brush their teeth more regularly, and in a general way watch the condition of the teeth better than the poorer classes?"

The dentist again admitted this to be the case. "Isn't the condition as a whole more common than it ever was before?"

"Yes."

"Well, what's the matter?"

"Well," stated the dentist, "it only goes to prove that it isn't the condition of the gums themselves, but of some general condition in the body."

When mouths that never see a toothbrush escape, and others that receive constant attention are affected, there must be a reason."

"This," said the physician, "is just what the medical profession and the dental profession also are beginning to realize. It is not uncommon to find patients with pyorrhea suffering also with some general constitutional disturbance such as constipation, rheumatism and gout. It is frequent also among tuberculous patients. One suffering with tuberculosis, with gout, rheumatism, or constipation is certainly not going to move around very much. The first three incapacitate him as to walking or any exercise, and constipation is the most effective method known for making a man lazy, mentally and physically."

What is the result? Two very simple things happen and yet they tell the whole story. The men who can't or will not move his body will weaken his heart muscle and thereby slow up his circulation. The blood lingers too long in various parts of the body, including the gums. It does not bring the blood to the part in the best of condition. And then again, the wastes are not removed because of this inactivity of the body."

Every physician knows that getting the wastes away from the body is the most important point of the treatment."

"Then," said the dentist, "the cause of pyorrhea is sluggish circulation?"

"I think so," said the physician.

"So do I," said the dentist.

Think it over.

To give the soul fit nourishment.
As comes to me or cloud or sun,
Father! Thy will, not mine, be done.

Can loving children e'er reprove
With murmurs whom they trust and love?
Creator, I would ever be A trusting, loving child to Thee;
As comes to me or cloud or sun,
Father! Thy will, not mine, be done.

Oh, ne'er will I at life repine;
Enough that Thou hast made it mine.
When falls the shadow cold of death,
I yet will sing with parting breath,
As comes to me or shade or sun,
Father! Thy will, not mine, be done.

Simple, Home Virtues

Long Beach Press

It was an inspiring spectacle, over there in that quaint New England village, last Sunday, when the President of the United States, feeling thoroughly at home in that place and in that atmosphere, showed his keen delight in being in the simple farm home, with his good, old-fashioned father, and in attending the old country church and hearing a homely sermon praising simplicity and extolling the commonplace things of life. That indeed was a fitting setting for Calvin Coolidge, the unspoiled, who remembers the simplicities to practice them even in the places of power. One of the finest aspects of the life of the Coolidge family is the simple living, the dignifying of the commonplace things, the harmony in the family life.

Here is inspiration for all the people. This Republic rests upon no surer foundation-stone than rock-ribbed virtue in the home, simple, temperate living and with harmony and good will enthroned.

These things should be fostered throughout the land. Here in this goodly community of Pasadena, with its high standards of life, the simplicities and virtues of pure home-life should be stressed at all times. The newspaper press, as well as other influences, has a great opportunity and a solemn responsibility in this—in keeping itself clean and thereby promoting cleanly thinking and cleanly living in the community, as well as standing for harmony in home and community life.

Time to Smile

HOW IT WAS DONE

A sportsman with a wonderful power of imagination was telling how at one shot he had bagged two partridges and a rabbit. His explanation was that though he had hit only one partridge, the bird in falling had clutched at another partridge and brought that to the earth in its claws.

"But how about the rabbit?" he was asked.

"Oh," was the calm reply, "my gun kicked and knocked me over, and I fell on the rabbit as it ran past."—Edinburgh Scotsman.

HOT DOG

"Is Robinson's new dog a setter or a pointer?" asked Mrs. Jones.

"He's neither," replied her neighbor.

"He's an upsetter and a disappointment."—Good Hardware.

In High Appreciation of Dr. Ball and Col. Finley

Laguna Beach, Calif.
August 20, 1924.

The Register,
Santa Ana, Calif.

Gentlemen:

Why do not our best men run for office? One hears this question asked in private political discussions among thinking people. Why, indeed? Because of the careless indifference and selfish inactivity of most of us—when our "best men" do run for office.

The politician in these days is in bad repute—as he deserves to be. Yet he is usually winner at elections because of a functioning machine.

In the coming primary election two of our "best men" Col. S. H. Finley and Dr. C. D. Ball, are running for reelection as Supervisor and Assemblyman, respectively. All who have lived in Orange county for any length of time, especially in and around Santa Ana know that never have we had men who more deserve all good citizens' co-operation and who can more ably direct our county's affairs.

The highest ideals our parents, schools and churches have tried to inculcate are exemplified in the person of Col. S. H. Finley. He is an honor to his profession, a man of outstanding public service, of clean character, absolute integrity and highest ideals. He is a man respected, loved, admired and trusted by all who know him, personally or by reputation.

Perhaps no man is personally better known and has been closer to more people in the county than Dr. C. D. Ball. In the old days before automobiles, with horse and buggy Dr. Ball answered calls of distress even into the farthest corners of the county over miserable roads and in all kinds of weather, regardless of his personal comfort.

Dr. Ball has always been a faithful, hard-working public servant, using his keenly trained mind in early years to alleviate physical suffering and in recent years to perform social or political service for his county and state. He has never betrayed his trust.

The friends of these men showed their appreciation and confidence in the last election and will not fall them this time, as they have both justified the public confidence by their acts. People that know these men and want to get the best possible men for Supervisor and Assemblyman will go to the polls Tuesday and vote for them. The only possibility of their defeat would be the inactivity and indifference of those who know and the ignorance of new citizens of Orange county of those who know and formed as to Col. S. H. Finley's and Dr. C. D. Ball's records. Let us who realize the quality of these men spread the truth for the public good. Here are two men, one a Democrat and one a Republican who will prove to be neither partisans nor bigots to the detriment of their constituents.

Yours very truly,
AGNES YOCHE WEST.

Lip Laziness

Americans are "lip-lazy," says President Southwick of the Emerson College of Oratory. To this laziness he lays our shortcomings in speech.

To the charge that most Americans slur or mumble their words, show little regard in conversation for the structural niceties of language, and rely heavily on slang to convey a meaning, we might as well plead guilty. The charge is true. But there are more factors involved than "lip-laziness."

Excessive fatigue, for instance, will affect one's speech. Worry and undue excitement are factors, also. At any time when the mental or physical state is disturbed there is a letting down of morale in speaking. The man who thought he had banished "aint" from his vocabulary lets it slip off his tongue and then wonders where it came from. It was there all the time—ever since he had acquired it in childhood.

So it all comes back to child training. The language one uses under stressful conditions is the language he acquired before 12 years old. That is the golden period in the formation of speech. "Give the child good English then," says a former head master of Eton college, "and he will learn to hate bad English." More than that, he will not find himself slipping now and then into habits that are humiliating. In speech as in character, the tree follows the bending of the twig.—Milwaukee Journal.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS
Olive Roberts Barton
NO. 16—PETEY POLAR BEAR'S HOUSE

"Let's go to see Petey Polar Bear," said Weeny to the Twins.

"All right!" said Nancy and Nick, just like that. "Where does he live?"

"Up north near Santa Claus," said Weeny.

"Near Mister and Mrs. Seal?" asked Nick.

"Not so very far," said Weeny. "If I hadn't floated away on an iceberg, we'd have gone to see Petey while we were up north before. But since we have so much magic along, it won't take us long to go back. Got my satchel with my nightgown and specs?"

"We've got it," said Nancy. And your toothbrush, too."

"Then all aboard for Santa Claus Land!" cried Weeny swinging his trunk back and forth pretending he was a brakeman with a lantern. "Toot! Toot!"

And away he started to the cold, cold north to visit Petey Polar Bear, his old circus friend.

And you'd be surprised how quickly they got there on the elephant express. You'd certainly be surprised!

Why, in no time at all they were standing right before Petey's house and knocking on his ice-door.

"Come in," said a grumbly, growly voice.

So Weeny turned the knob with his trunk and went in, but it was a pretty tight squeeze and the Twins nearly got scraped off his back.

There sat Mister Bear reading his paper.
